[Answer all the questions. Figures in the margin indicate full marks.]

Part-I : Rea
ing Test [60 Mark

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

One of the sources of water in our country are the rivers. Rivers are everywhere in our life, literature, economy and culture. But are the rivers in good shape? Unfortunately, they are not. A few are already dead and several are going through the pangs of death. The river Buriganga is an example of a dying river. A report published in the Daily Sun describes what has happened to the river Buriganga and why. Its water is polluted and a perpetual stench fills the air around it. But that is not what it was like before.

The report says that the river had a glorious past. Once it was a tributary of the mighty Ganges and flowed into the Bay of Bengal through the river Dhaleshwari. Gradually, it lost its link with the Ganges and got the name Buriganga. The Mughals marveled at the tide level of the Buriganga and founded their capital Jahangirnagar on its banks in 1610. The river supplied drinking water and supported trade and commerce. Jahangirnagar was renamed Dhaka which grew into a heavily populated city with a chronic shortage of space.

The city paid back the bounty of the river by sucking life out of it! According to newspaper report, the Buriganga is dying because of pollution. Huge quantities of toxic chemicals and wastes from mills and factories, hospitals and clinics and households and other establishments are dumped into the river every day. The city of Dhaka discharges about 4500 tons of solid waste every day and most of it is directly released into the Buriganga. According to the Department of the Environment (DoE), 20,000 tons of tannery waste, including some highly toxic materials, are released into the river every day. Experts identified nine industrial areas in and around the capital city as the primary sources of river pollution: Tongi, Tejgaon, Hazaribagh, Tarabo, Narayanganj, Savar, Gazipur, Dhaka Export Processing Zone and Ghorashal.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives.

1. The word 'tributary' refers to ——.
   - (a) fountain
   - (b) territory
   - (c) stream
   - (d) kingdom

2. The Buriganga water fills the air with ——.
   - (a) aroma
   - (b) fragrance
   - (c) stink
   - (d) scent

3. Founded their capital on the bank of the Buriganga.
   - (a) The British
   - (b) The Mughals
   - (c) The Indians
   - (d) The Bangladeshis

4. Which of the following statements is false?
   - (a) Buriganga is a river
   - (b) Our rivers are not in a good shape
   - (c) Jahangirnagar was once called Dhaka
   - (d) Water is being contaminated

5. The best synonym of ‘toxic’ is ——.
   - (a) Poisonous
   - (b) Hygienic
   - (c) Healthy
   - (d) Useful

B. Answer the following questions.

1. What do you think is the condition of the rivers of our country?
2. What is the commercial value of the river Buriganga?
3. Why is the Buriganga described as an example of a dying river? Give reasons for your answer.
4. How is the Buriganga polluted?
5. What did the Mughals marvel at? What was the outcome of it?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the specialities of Gazi Pir.

   According to some myths and legends, Gazi Pir was a Muslim saint who is said to have spread Islam in the parts of Bengal close to the Sunderbans. He was credited with many miracles. For example, he could supposedly calm dangerous animals and make them docile. He is usually depicted in paats or scroll paintings riding a fierce-looking Bengal tiger, a snake in his hand, but in no apparent danger. According to some stories, he also fought crocodiles who threatened the people of a region full of canals and creeks, indeed, a kind of watery jungle bordering the Bay of Bengal. Because of his alert and vigilant presence, all predatory animals were said to have been kept within bounds. It was also believed that he enabled villagers to live close to forests and jungles and cultivate their lands.
Consequently, people of these regions would pray to him for protection. The story of Gazi Pir has been preserved in folk literature as well as art and has been performed in indigenous theatre. In fact, some Gazi’s patua scrolls are part of the collection of the British Museum.

3. Summarise the following text

Anne Frank is perhaps the most well-known victim of the Nazi Holocaust of World War II. Anne, born on 12 June 1929, was given a diary at the age of 13, in which she chronicled her life from 1942 to 1944. During this time, Anne spent two years in hiding with her family in Nazi-occupied Amsterdam in a secret annex with four other Jews. Betrayed and discovered in 1944, Anne was sent to the Bergen-Belsen concentration camp, where she died of typhus in 1945. Anne’s father, Otto Frank, was the only occupant of the secret annex to survive the war. In 1947, he published Anne’s diary as The Diary of a Young Girl. Anne’s account of her internment, as well as her deep belief in humanity has become one of the world’s most widely read books.

[Answer all the questions. Figures in the margin indicate full marks.]

Part I: Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

Kuakata, locally known as Sagar Kannya (Daughter of the Sea) is a rare scenic spot located on the southernmost tip of Bangladesh. Kuakata in Latachapli union under Kalapara Police Station of Patuakhali district is about 30 km in length and 6 km in breadth. It is 70 km from Patuakhali district headquarters and 320 km from Dhaka. An excellent combination of the picturesque natural beauty, sandy beaches, blue sky and the shimmering expanse of water of the Bay of Bengal and the evergreen forest makes Kuakata a much sought after tourist destination. The name Kuakata takes its origin from the story of a 'Kua' – child birth. This leads to increased mortality rates among adolescent brides during childbirth. Majority of our people are uninformed or insufficiently informed about contraception and reproductive health. This leads to increased mortality rates among adolescent brides during childbirth.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives. 1 x 5 = 5

(i) 'Scenic spot' refers to ——.
   a. a place having multiple scenes
   b. a place having a calm atmosphere
   c. a place of unparalleled natural beauty
   d. a place having untidy spots

(ii) The word 'shimmering' in the text could be best replaced by ——.
   a. shivering
   b. shining
   c. significant
   d. glaring

(iii) The Rakhaines originally came from ——
   a. Patuakhali district  b. Latachapli union  c. Kuakata coast  d. Arakan district

(iv) The best synonym of 'vibrant' is ——.
   a. thrilling
   b. colourful
   c. gorgeous
   d. brilliant

(v) 'Kuakata is truly a virgin beach and a sanctuary for migratory winter birds' —— what does it imply?
   a. Kuakata is a beach in its original pure condition and a rare abode for guest birds.
   b. Kuakata is a place of rare beauty and world’s longest beach.
   c. Kuakata is untouched by human habitation.
   d. Kuakata is a natural habitat.

B. Answer the following questions. 2 x 5 = 10

(a) What does the expression 'a much sought after tourist destination' mean?
(b) Where does the name 'Kuakata' come from?
(c) What makes Kuakata an attractive tourist spot?
(d) Why would one visit Kuakata?
(e) 'Kuakata' upholds an ancient tradition. How?

2. Read the following text and make a flowchart showing the situation of adolescent girls in Bangladesh. (One is done for you) 2 x 5 = 10

In Bangladesh, the legal age of marriage for girls is 18. However, 33% of our girls get married before they are 15 and 60% of them become mothers by the time they reach 19. When an adolescent girl gets married, she usually drops out of school and thus loses her mobility. She gets confined to full-time work in her in-law's household. She loses social status and all the opportunities of economic independence. In her in-law's house, she gets marginalized. She becomes vulnerable to all sorts of abuse, including dowry-related violence. In our country, it is still a common practice for the bride's family to pay dowry. Dowry demands can continue even after marriage. An adolescent bride, even if her in-laws are supportive, faces enormous health risk during pregnancy and childbirth. Majority of our people are uninformed or insufficiently informed about contraception and reproductive health. This leads to increased mortality rates among adolescent brides during childbirth.

1. Getting married early → 2. → 3. → 4. → 5. → 6.
3. Write a summary of the following text.

My name is Amerigo. I am 13 years old and I live on the street, alone. My mother, who is separated from my father, doesn’t want me. She told me to go away .... Now she is married to another man. My father lives very far away. I want to go to him, but he won’t take me either. The streets are now my home. Sometimes I find work. I used to collect trash and sell it to a vendor. I stopped doing that after I had a serious infection and a doctor told me to stay away from the trash dump. Once I worked for an ice cream shop owner and sold ice cream on the beach. But I got no money in return. The owner of the shop gave me something to eat, and let me sleep in his hut at night. The work was difficult and painful. The ice cream box is quite heavy when it is full. I had to walk for hours, offering my ice cream to whoever wanted to buy. There were days when I could not even sell one ice cream.

In a way, I am lucky because I am alive. One of my friends was recently killed after he fell into a hole that opened up in the pile of trash. A boy I know lost one of his eyes after a piece of hot glass flew into his eye at the glass factory where he worked. The owner refused to pay for medical treatment. For me, like all other street children, life is very hard. I am looking for work. I am always hungry, and I don’t know where I will sleep at night.

Nine bean rows will I have there, a hive for the honey bee
And live alone in the bee loud glade.
I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings;
There midnight’s all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow,
And evening full of the linnet’s wings.
I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore:
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements grey,
I hear it in the deep heart’s core.

2. Read the following text and make a flowchart showing important aspects of craftwork. (One is done for you)

A craftwork is an applied form of art, a social and cultural product reflecting the inclusive nature of folk imagination. A craftwork, which usually doesn’t bear the signature of its maker, retains a personal touch. When we look at a thirty-year old nakshikantha we wonder at its motifs and designs that point to the artistic ingenuity and the presence of the maker in it. The fact that we don’t know her name or any other details about her doesn’t take anything away from our appreciation of the artist. Indeed, the intimate nature of the kantha and the tactile feeling it generates animate the work and make it very inviting.

A craftwork is shaped by the interaction of individual creativity and community aesthetics, utility functions and human values. It is distinguished by its maker’s desire to locate himself or herself in the wider and ever-changing cultural aspirations of the community, and subsequently of the market.

"I’m not in the least hungry," my guest sighed. "but if you insist I don’t mind having some asparagus."

I ordered them.

"Aren’t you going to have any?" "No, I never eat asparagus."

"I know there are people who don’t like them. The fact is, you ruin your palate by all the meat you eat."

We waited for the asparagus to be cooked. Panic seized me. It was not a question now of how much money I should have left over for the rest of the month, but whether I had enough to pay the bill.

The asparagus appeared. They were enormous, succulent, and appetizing. The smell of the melted butter tickled my nostrils ....

"Coffee?" I said.

"Yes, just an ice cream and coffee," she answered. I was past caring now. So I ordered coffee for myself and an ice cream for her. "You know, there’s one thing I thoroughly believe in," she said, as she ate the ice cream. "One should always get up from a meal feeling one could eat a little more."

Part–I : Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

Folk music consists of songs and music of a community that are uninfluenced by any sophisticated musical rules or any standard music styles. Bangladesh has a heritage of rich folk music which includes both religious and secular songs. Folk music may be described as that type of ancient music which springs from the heart of a community, based on their natural style of expression uninfluenced by the rules of classical music and modern popular songs. Any mode or form created by the combination of tune, voice and dance may be described as music. Thus, the combination of folk song, folk dance and folk tune may be called folk music. For example, Baul songs are a combination of tune, music and dance. In Bangladesh folk music has great variety, with songs being composed on the culture, festivals, views of life, natural beauty, rivers and rural and riverine life. These songs are also about social inequality and poverty, about the material world and the supernatural. Mystical songs have been composed using the metaphors of rivers and boats. Since the country is basically riverine, the Bhatiyali forms an important genre of folk music. Folk music is formed and develops according to the environment. Differences in the natural environment are reflected in the people of the different regions. The dialects too vary across the different regions. Bangladeshi folk music therefore varies from region to region.

Text : Unit–5; Lesson–2

2. Read the following text and make a flowchart showing the painful experiences a street child has to suffer to survive. (One is done for you)

The streets are now my home. Sometimes I find work. I used to collect trash and sell it to a vendor. I stopped doing that after I had a serious infection and a doctor told me to stay away from the trash dump. Once I worked for an ice cream shop owner and sold ice cream on the beach. But I got no money in return. The owner of the shop gave me something to eat, and let me sleep in his hut at night. The work was difficult and painful. The ice cream box is quite heavy when it is full. I had to walk for hours, offering my ice cream to whoever wanted to buy. There were days when I could not even sell one ice cream.

1. Homeless
2. Work
3. Illness
4. Hunger
5. Homelessness

3. Write a summary of the following text.

Beauty is easy to appreciate but difficult to define. As we look around, we discover beauty in pleasurable objects and sights - in nature, in the laughter of children, in the kindness of strangers. But asked to define, we run into difficulties. Does beauty have an independent objective identity? Is it universal, or is it dependent on our sense perceptions? Does it lie in the eye of the beholder? — we ask ourselves. A further difficulty arises when beauty manifests itself not only by its presence, but by its absence as well, as when we are repulsed by ugliness and desire beauty. But then ugliness has as much a place in our lives as beauty, or may be more— as when there is widespread hunger and injustice in a society. Philosophers have told us that beauty is an important part of life, but isn't ugliness a part of life too? And if art has beauty as an important ingredient, can it confine itself only to a projection of beauty? Can art ignore what is not beautiful?

I love to rise in a summer morn,
When the birds sing on every tree;
The distant huntsman winds his horn,
And the skylark sings with me:
O what sweet company!
But to go to school in a summer morn,
O it drives all joy away!
Under a cruel eye outworn,
The little ones spend the day
In sighing and dismay.
Ah then at times I drooping sit,
And spend many an anxious hour;
Nor in my book can I take delight,
Nor sit in learning's bower,
Worn through with the dreary shower.
How can the bird that is born for joy
Sit in a cage and sing?
How can a child, when fears annoy,
But droop his tender wing,
And forget his youthful spring!

Part-I : Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

The term ‘diaspora’ is used to refer to people who have left their homelands and settled in other parts of the world, either because they were forced to do so or because they wanted to leave on their own. The word is increasingly used for such people as a collective group and/or a community. The world has seen many diasporas but scholars have been studying the phenomenon with great interest only in recent decades. Among the great diasporas of history is that of the Jewish people, who were forced to leave their lands in ancient times. The movement of Aryans from Central Europe to the Indian subcontinent thousands of years ago is also a noteworthy diaspora, although the causes of this diaspora are unclear. In twentieth century history, the Palestinian diaspora has attracted a lot of attention and been a cause of concern for world leaders because of the plight of Palestinians. There have been massive diasporas in Africa, too, over the centuries, either because of war or because of the ravages of nature. But the chief reason why the phenomenon of diaspora is attracting so much attention now is globalization.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives.

(i) The word ‘decade’ refers to ———.
   a. thirty years  b. fifty years  c. ten years  d. five years
(ii) What does diaspora mean?
   a. people live their own country  b. people go abroad
   c. people work in other countries  d. people leave their own countries and settle in other parts of the world
(iii) The synonym of ‘noteworthy’ is ———.
   a. insignificant  b. noticeable  c. invaluable  d. appreciable
(iv) The Aryans came to the Indian Sub Continent from ———.
   a. America  b. Africa  c. Central Europe  d. Europe
(v) In Africa there have been ———.
   a. massive diasporas  b. a little diasporas  c. no diasporas  d. very little diasporas
B. Answer the following questions.
(a) Why do people leave their own countries?
(b) Do you think that there have been massive diasporas in Africa?
(c) Why is diaspora attracting so much attention?
(d) How do the twentieth century Palestinian diasporas draw the attention of the world leaders?
(e) Why have the scholars been studying about the diasporas with great interest?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing role and activities of Gazi Pir. (one is done for you)

According to some myths and legends, Gazi Pir was a Muslim saint who is said to have spread Islam in the parts of Bengal close to the Sundarbans. He was credited with many miracles. For example, he could supposedly calm dangerous animals and make them docile. He is usually depicted in paats or scroll paintings riding a fierce-looking Bengal tiger, a snake in his hand, but in no apparent danger. According to some stories, he also fought crocodiles which threatened the people of a region full of canals and creeks, indeed, a kind of watery jungle bordering the Bay of Bengal. Because of his alert and vigilant presence, all predatory animals were said to have been kept within bounds. It was also believed that he enabled villagers to live close to forests and jungles and cultivate their lands.

3. Summarize the following poem.

Because I have seen Bengal's face I will seek no more;
The world has not anything more beautiful to show me.
Waking up in darkness, gazing at the fig-tree, I behold
Dawn's swallows roosting under huge umbrella-like leaves. I look around me
And discover a leafy dome-Jam, Kanthal, Bat, Hijol and Aswatha trees ——
All in a hush, shadowing clumps of cactus and zedoary bushes.
When long, long ago, Chand came in his honeycombed boat
To a blue Hijal, Bat and Tamal shade near the Champa, he too sighted Bengal's incomparable beauty. One day, alas. In the Ganguri,
On a raft, as the waning moon sank on the river's sandbanks.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the major characteristics of adolescence. (one is done for you)

The time of adolescence is a period of preparation for adulthood during which one experiences several key developments. Besides physical and sexual maturation, these experiences include movement toward social and economic independence, development of identity, the acquisition of skills needed to carry out adult relationships and roles and the capacity for abstract reasoning. While adolescence is a time of tremendous growth and potential, it is also a time of considerable risks during which social contexts exert powerful influences. Many adolescents face pressure to use alcohol, cigarettes, or other drugs and to initiate sexual relationships putting themselves at high risk for intentional and unintentional injuries, unintended pregnancies, and sexually transmitted infections (STIs), including the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV). Many also experience a wide range of adjustment and mental health problems.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

Kuakata, locally known as Sagar Kannya (Daughter of the Sea) is a rare scenic spot located on the southernmost tip of Bangladesh. Kuakata in Latchapuli union under Kalapara Police Station of Patuakhali district is about 30 km in length and 6 km in breadth. It is 70 km from Patuakhali district headquarters and 320 km from Dhaka. An excellent combination of the picturesque natural beauty, sandy beaches, blue sky and the shimmering expanse of water of the Bay of Bengal and the evergreen forest makes Kuakata a much sought after tourist destination. The name Kuakata takes its origin from the story of a ‘Kua’- or well-dug on the sea shore by the early Rakhaine settlers for collecting drinking water. The Rakhaines had landed on Kuakata coast after being expelled from Arakan by the Mughals. Following the first well, it became a tradition to dig wells in the neighborhood of Rakhaine homesteads for fresh water supply. Kuakata is one of the unique spots which allow a visitor to watch both the sunrise and the sunset from the beach. That perhaps makes Kuakata one of the world’s most attractive beaches. The long and wide beach at Kuakata has a typical natural setting. This sandy beach slopes gently into the Bay and bathing there is as pleasant as is swimming or diving.

Part – I: Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

   The river Buriganga is an example of a dying river. A report published in the Daily Sun describes what has happened to the river Buriganga and why. Its water is polluted and a perpetual stench fills the air around it. But that is not what it was like before. The report says that the river had a glorious past. Once it was a tributary of the mighty Ganges and flowed into the Bay of Bengal through the river Dhaleshwari. Gradually, it lost its link with the Ganges and got the name Buriganga. The Mughals marveled at the tide level of the Buriganga and founded their capital Jahangirnagar on its banks in 1610. The river supplied drinking water and supported trade and commerce. Jahangirnagar was renamed Dhaka which grew into a heavily populated city with a chronic shortage of space.

   The city paid back the bounty of the river by sucking life out of it! According to newspaper report, the Buriganga is dying because of pollution. Huge quantities of toxic chemicals and wastes from mills and factories, hospitals and clinics and households and other establishments are dumped into the river every day. The city of Dhaka discharges about 4500 tons of solid waste every day and most of it is directly released into the Buriganga. According to the Department of the Environment (DoE), 20,000 tons of tannery waste, including some highly toxic materials, are released into the river every day. Experts identified nine industrial areas in and around the capital city as the primary sources of river pollution: Tongi, Tejgaon, Hazaribagh, Tarabo, Narayanganj, Savar, Gazipur, Dhaka Export Processing Zone and Ghorashal.

   The river would need a monster’s stomach to digest all the wastes mentioned above. There is a limit to which it can put up with its cruel and thoughtless treatment. We, the humans, have successfully killed one of our rivers. There are other rivers in the country that are being subjected to similar thoughtless treatment. Unless we take care of our rivers there may come a time when we will cry ‘water, water’ and find it nowhere.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

Accessibility to higher education implies that students get the opportunity to get university education and sufficient support from educational institutions. Increasing enrolment at the secondary and higher secondary level puts pressure on higher educational institutions. But due to limited capacity, only a small number of students may be enrolled in universities. Thus, each year a large number of students are denied access to higher education. Moreover, those who get places in the universities have limited access to avail all kinds of diversified educational facilities relating to their study fields. Only about 12 percent of graduates enter higher educational institutions. More than 80 percent of these students are admitted to NU-affiliated colleges. Others are absorbed by the public and private universities.

Part-I : Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

Adolescents constitute a nation's core resource for national renewal and growth. Adolescence is a period in life when transition from childhood to adulthood takes place and behaviours and life styles are shaped. According to the World Health Organisation (WHO), adolescence is the period which shapes the future of girls' and boys' lives. There are 28 million adolescents in Bangladesh; 13.7 million of them are girls and 14.3 million boys.

The situation of adolescent girls in Bangladesh is characterised by inequality and subordination within the family and society. This inequality leads to widespread practice of child marriage, marginalisation or exclusion from health, education and economic opportunities, and vulnerability to violence and sexual abuse.

In Bangladesh, the legal age of marriage is 18 for girls and 21 for boys. However, 33 percent of adolescent girls are married before the age of 15 and 60 percent become mothers by the age of 19. Research finds that adolescents with higher level of education and from more affluent families tend to marry at a later age. Boys, however, become ready for marriage only after several years of adolescence and young adulthood.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the activities of peace movement. (one is done for you)

A peace movement is a social movement that seeks to achieve ideals such as the ending of a particular war (or all wars), minimize inter-human violence in a particular place or type of situation, including ban of guns, and is often linked to the goal of achieving world peace. Means to achieve these ends include advocacy of pacifism, non-violent resistance, diplomacy, boycotts, demonstrations, peace camps; supporting anti-war political candidates and banning guns, creating open government, direct democracy; supporting people who expose war-crimes or conspiracies to create wars, and making laws. Different organizations involved in peace movements may have some diverse goals, but one common goal is sustainability of peace.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

Universities should never be made into mechanical organizations for collecting and distributing knowledge. Through them the people should offer their intellectual hospitality, their wealth of mind to others, and earn their proud right in return to receive gifts from the rest of the world. But in the whole length and breadth of India there is not a single University established in the modern time where a foreign or an Indian student can properly be acquainted with the best products of the Indian mind. For that we have to cross the sea, and knock at the doors of France and Germany. Educational institutions in our country are India's alms-bowl of knowledge; they lower our intellectual self-respect; they encourage us to make a foolish display of decorations composed of borrowed feathers.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the causes and aspects of conflict. (No. 1 has been done for you) 2 × 5 = 10

Conflict can be described as a disagreement among groups or individuals characterized by antagonism and hostility. This is usually fueled by the opposition of one party to another in an attempt to reach an objective different from that of the other party. The elements involved in the conflict have varied sets of principles and values, thus allowing a conflict to arise. Conflict can be defined in many ways but one of the simplest is that it pertains to the opposing ideas and actions of different entities, resulting in an antagonistic state. Conflict is an inevitable part of life. All of us possess our own opinions, ideas and sets of beliefs. We have our own ways of looking at things and we act according to what we think is proper. Hence, we often find ourselves in conflict in different scenarios; it may involve other individuals, groups of people, a struggle within our own selves. Consequently, conflict influences our actions and decisions in one way or other.

Part 2

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

Beauty is easy to appreciate but difficult to define. As we look around, we discover beauty in pleasurable objects and sights— in nature, in the laughter of children, in the kindness of strangers. But asked to define, we run into difficulties. Does beauty have an independent objective identity? Is it universal, or is it dependent on our sense perceptions? Does it lie in the eye of the beholder? —we ask ourselves. A further difficulty arises when beauty manifests itself not only by its presence, but by its absence as well, as when we are repulsed by ugliness and desire beauty. But then ugliness has as much a place in our lives as beauty, or may be more—as when there is widespread hunger and injustice in a society. Philosophers have told us that beauty is an important part of life, but isn’t ugliness a part of life too? And if art has beauty as an important ingredient, can it confine itself only to a projection of beauty? Can art ignore what is not beautiful?

Poets and artists have provided an answer by incorporating both into their work. In doing so, they have assumed a tolerable proportion as something that represents some truth about life. John Keats, the romantic poet, wrote in his celebrated ‘Ode on a Grecian Urn’— ‘Beauty is truth, truth beauty,’ by which he means that truth, even if it’s not pleasant, becomes beautiful at a higher level. Similarly, what is beautiful forever remains true. Another meaning, in the context of the Grecian Urn—an art object—is that truth is a condition of art.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives.

(i) The word appreciate means—
   a. praise  b. choose  c. select  d. like

(ii) The word “repulsed” stands for—
   a. disguised  b. ignored  c. attracted  d. regarded

(iii) Beauty also prevails in—
   a. truth  b. pleasurable objects  c. ugliness  d. beautification

(iv) The best synonym of “beholder” is—
   a. runner  b. sender  c. watcher  d. stopper

(v) We face difficulties—
   a. when we go through any poem  b. when we are told to define beauty  c. when we appreciate beauty  d. when we are told to define truth

B. Answer the following questions.

(a) When do we run into difficulties?
(b) Is ugliness a part of life? If so, how?
(c) What has John Keats written in “Ode on a Grecian Urn”?
(d) When does “ugliness” occupy a place in our life?
(e) How do poets and artists provide answer about the questions on how to define beauty?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the goal of peace movement.

A peace movement is a social movement that promotes diversity goals, but one common goal is sustainability of peace. Peace movement is basically an all-encompassing “anti-war movement”. It is primarily characterized by a belief that human beings should not wage war on each other or engage in violent conflicts over language, race, natural resources, religion or ideology. It is believed that military power is not the equivalent of justice. The peace movement tends to oppose the proliferation of dangerous technologies and weapons of mass destruction, in particular, nuclear weapons and biological warfare. Moreover, many object to the export of weapons including hand-held machine guns and grenades by leading economic nations to lesser developed nations.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

Bangladesh is blessed with huge inland open water resources. It has numerous rivers, canals, beels, lakes, and vast areas of floodplains. Hakaluki haor is one of the major wetlands of Bangladesh. With a land area of 18,386 hectares, it supports a rich biodiversity and provides direct and indirect livelihood benefits to nearly 190,000 people. This haor was declared an Ecologically Critical Area in April, 1999 by the government of Bangladesh.

Hakaluki is a complex ecosystem, containing more than 238 interconnecting beels and jalmahals. The most important beels are Chatla, Pinlarkona, Dulla, Sakua, Barajalla, Bajilhuri, Lamba, Tekonia, Haorkhal, Tural, Baghalkuri and Chinaura. Hakaluki Haor is bounded by the Kushiara... river as well as a part of the Sonai-Bardal river to the north, by the Fenchuganj-Kulaura railway to the west and to the south, and by the Kulaura-Beanibazar road to the east. The haor falls under two administrative districts, Maulviibazar and Sylhet. Some 190,000 people live in the area surrounding the haor.

Hakaluki Haor is an important source of fisheries resources for Bangladesh. Kalibaus, Boal, Rui, Ghagot, Pabda and Chapil are the main fish species found here. From the Kushiarra there are frequent upstream movement of fish towards the beels and tributaries of Hakaluki. The beels in Hakaluki haor provide winter shelter for the mother fisheries. In early monsoon these mother fisheries produce millions of fries for the entire downstream fishing communities. Floodplains are also an important source of fisheries resources within the area. However, many of the beels have lost their capacity to provide shelter for mother fisheries because of sand deposits from upstream rivers and canals, use of complete dewatering technique for fishing and lack of aquatic plants to provide feed and shelter for parent fish.

Part-I : Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

When adolescent girls are pulled out of school, either for marriage or work, they often lose their mobility, their friends and social status. The lack of mobility among adolescent girls also curtails their economic and non-formal educational opportunities. Moreover, they lack information about health issues. According to a study, only about three in five adolescents have even heard of HIV. It is also reported that more than 50 percent of adolescent girls are undernourished and suffer from anaemia. Adolescent fertility rate increased from 20.3% in 1993 to 24.4% in 2007. Moreover, neonatal mortality is another concern for younger mothers.

While the situation for adolescent boys is somewhat better, many are vulnerable and lack the power to make decisions about their own lives. Many boys who are unable to go to school, or are unemployed, remain unaware of social or health issues. They are at considerable risk of being drawn into criminal activities. They are likely to get exposed to drugs and alcohol causing irreparable damage to their health and life.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives. 1 x 5 = 5

(a) The word 'mobility' means ——.
   i. ability ii. creativity iii. movement iv. activity

(b) The phrase 'exposed to' may best be replaced by ——.

2. Read the following text and make a flow-chart highlighting the different aspects of socio-cultural life as reflected in folk music. (No. 1 has been done for you) 2 x 5 = 10

In Bangladesh folk music has great variety, with songs being composed on culture, festivals, views of life, natural beauty, rivers and rural and riverine life. These songs are also about social inequality and poverty, about the material world and the supernatural. Mystical songs have been composed using the metaphors of rivers and boats. Since the country is basically riverine, the Bhatiyali forms an important genre of folk music. Folk music is formed and develops according to the environment.
Differences in the natural environment are reflected in the people of the different regions. The dialects too vary across the different regions. Bangladeshi folk music therefore varies from region to region. Thus there are the northern Bhawaiya, the eastern Bhatiyali and the southwestern Baul songs.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

The term ‘diaspora’ is used to refer to people who have left their homelands and settled in other parts of the world, either because they were forced to do so or because they wanted to leave on their own. The word is increasingly used for such people as a collective group or a community. The world has seen many diasporas but scholars have been studying the phenomenon with great interest only in recent decades.

Among the great diasporas of history is that of the Jewish people, who were forced to leave their lands in ancient times. The movement of Aryans from Central Europe to the Indian sub-continent thousands of years ago is also a noteworthy diaspora, although the causes of this diaspora are unclear. In twentieth century history, the Palestinian diaspora has attracted a lot of attention and been a cause of concern for world leaders because of the plight of Palestinians. There have been massive diasporas in Africa, too, over the centuries, either because of war or because of the ravages of nature. But the chief reason why the phenomenon of diaspora is attracting so much attention now is globalization.

11. Write down the theme of the following poem. (Not more than 50 words):

I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree,
And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made;
Nine bean rows will I have there, a hive for the honey bee
And live alone in the bee loud glade.
And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings;
There midnight's all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow,
And evening full of the linnet's wings.
I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements grey,
I hear it in the deep heart's core.

Part-1: Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

As a child you must have been told to greet your elders and visitors to your home according to your culture and tradition. You must also have been taught to be polite in company and keep quiet while others, especially your elders, speak. Possibly, at times you even protested such disciplining. Now, certainly you know that you can’t always behave the way you want specially in the presence of others. There are rules of behavior you have to follow in a company. We are social beings and have to consider the effect of our behavior on others, even if we are at home and dealing with our family members.

We have two terms to describe our social behavior - ‘etiquette’ and ‘manners.’ ‘Etiquette’ is a French word and it means the rules of correct behavior in society. The word ‘manners’ means the behaviour that is considered to be polite in a particular society or culture. Manners can be good or bad. For example, it is a bad manner to speak with food in one’s mouth. No one likes a bad mannered person. Remember that etiquette and manners vary from culture to culture and from society to society. We learn etiquette and manners from our parents, families and various institutions, such as schools, colleges or professional bodies. There are rules of behavior for all kinds of social occasions and it is important to learn them and practise them in everyday life. The manners that are correct in a wedding reception will not do in a debating club. Therefore, we have to be careful about etiquette and manners. We know how important it is to say ‘please’ and ‘thank you’ in everyday life. A few more polite expressions such as ‘pardon me,’ ‘excuse me,’ ‘may I,’ are bound to make your day smooth and pleasant.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives.

(a) The word ‘possibly’ refers to ——.
   i. really ii. perhaps iii. exactly iv. eventually
(b) The best synonym of ‘smooth’ is ——.
   i. glossy ii. uneven iii. peaceful iv. urbane

Write a summary of the following text.

According to some myths and legends, Gazi Pir was a Muslim saint who is said to have spread Islam in the parts of Bengal close to the Sundarbans. He was credited with many miracles. For example, he could supposedly calm dangerous animals and make them docile. He is usually depicted in paats or scroll paintings riding a fierce-looking Bengal tiger, a snake in his hand, but in no apparent danger. According to some stories, he also fought crocodiles who threatened the people of a region full of canals and creeks, indeed, a kind of watery jungle bordering the Bay of Bengal. Because of his alert and vigilant presence, all predatory animals were said to have been kept within bounds. It was also believed that he enabled villagers to live close to forests and jungles and cultivate their lands. Consequently, people of these regions would pray to him for protection. The story of Gazi Pir has been preserved in folk literature as well as art and has been performed in indigenous theatre. In fact, some Gazir paat scrolls are part of the collection of the British Museum.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the objectives of peace movement. (One is done for you)

A peace movement is a social movement that seeks to achieve ideals such as the ending of a particular war (or all wars), minimize inter-human violence in a particular place or type of situation including ban of guns, and is often linked to the goal of achieving world peace. Means to achieve these ends include advocacy of pacifism, non-violent resistance, diplomacy, boycotts, demonstrations, peace camps; supporting anti-war political candidates and banning guns, creating open government, direct democracy; supporting people who expose war-crimes or conspiracies to create wars, and making laws. Different organizations involved in peace movements may have some diverse goals, but one common goal is sustainability of peace.

Peace movement is basically an all-encompassing “anti-war movement”. It is primarily characterized by a belief that human beings should not wage war on each other or engage in violent conflicts over language, race, natural resources, religion or ideology. It is believed that military power is not the equivalent of justice. The peace movement tends to oppose the proliferation of dangerous technologies and weapons of mass destruction, in particular, nuclear weapons and biological warfare. Moreover, many object to the export of weapons including hand-held machine guns and grenades by leading economic nations to lesser developed nations.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

Universities should never be made into mechanical organizations for collecting and distributing knowledge. Through them the people should offer their intellectual hospitality, their wealth of mind to others, and earn their proud right in return to receive gifts from the rest of the world. But in the whole length and breadth of India there is not a single University established in the modern time where a foreign or an Indian student can properly be acquainted with the best products of the Indian mind. For that we have to cross the sea, and knock at the doors of France and Germany. Educational institutions in our country are India’s alms-bowl of knowledge; they lower our intellectual self-respect; they encourage us to make a foolish display of decorations composed of borrowed feathers.

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

   Kuakata, locally known as Sagar Kannya (Daughter of the sea) is a rare scenic spot located on the southernmost tip of Bangladesh. Kuakata in Latachapli union under Kalapara Police Station of Patuakhali district is about 30 km in length and 6 km in breadth. It is 70 km from Patuakhali district headquarters and 320 km from Dhaka. An excellent combination of the picturesque natural beauty, sandy beaches, blue sky and the shimmering expanse of water of the Bay of Bengal and the evergreen forest makes Kuakata a much sought after tourist destination.

   The name 'Kuakata' takes its origin from the story of a 'Kua' or 'well'-dug on the sea shore by the early Rakhaine settlers for collecting drinking water. The Rakhaines had landed on Kuakata coast after being expelled from Arakan by the Mughals. Following the first well, it became a tradition to dig wells in the neighborhood of Rakhaine homesteads for fresh water supply.
Kuakata is one of the unique spots which allow a visitor to watch both the sunrise and the sunset from the beach. That perhaps makes Kuakata one of the world’s most attractive beaches. The long and wide beach at Kuakata has a typical natural setting. This sandy beach slopes gently into the Bay and bathing there is as pleasant as is swimming or diving.

Kuakata is a truly a virgin beach and a sanctuary for migratory winter birds. Fishing boats plying in the Bay of Bengal with colourful sails, surfing waves and the lines of coconut trees add to the vibrant colours Kuakata. The indigenous culture of the Rakhaine community and hundred year old Buddhist temples indicate the age old tradition and cultural heritage of this area.

Kuakata is also a holy land for the Hindus and Buddhists. Each year thousands of devotees come here to attend the festivals Rash Purnima and Maghi Purnima. On these two days, pilgrims take holy bath and enjoy going to the traditional fairs.

Kuakata is truly a virgin beach and a sanctuary for migratory winter birds. Fishing boats plying in the Bay of Bengal with colourful sails, surfing waves and the lines of coconut trees add to the vibrant colours Kuakata. The indigenous culture of the Rakhaine community and hundred year old Buddhist temples indicate the age old tradition and cultural heritage of this area.

Kuakata is also a holy land for the Hindus and Buddhists. Each year thousands of devotees come here to attend the festivals Rash Purnima and Maghi Purnima. On these two days, pilgrims take holy bath and enjoy going to the traditional fairs.

2. Read the following text and make a flow-chart showing role and activities of Gazipur.

According to some myths and legends, Gazipur was a Muslim saint who is said to have spread Islam in the parts of Bengal close to the Sundarbans. He was credited with many miracles. For example, he could supposedly calm dangerous animals and make them docile. He is usually depicted in paats or scroll paintings riding a fierce-looking Bengal tiger, a snake in his hand, but in no apparent danger. According to some stories, he also fought crocodiles who threatened the people of a region full of canals and creeks, indeed, a kind of watery jungle bordering the Bay of Bengal. Because of his alert and vigilant presence, all predatory animals were said to have been kept within bounds. It was also believed that he enabled villagers to live close to forests and jungles and cultivate their lands. Consequently, people of these regions would pray to him for protection. The story of gazipur has been preserved in folk literature as well as art and has been performed in indigenous theatre. In fact, some Gazi paat scrolls are part of the collection of the British Museum.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

Universities should never be made in mechanical organizations for collecting and distributing knowledge. Through them the people should offer their intellectual hospitality, their wealth of mind to others, and earn their proud right in return to receive gifts from the rest of the world. But in the whole length and breadth of India, there is not a single university established in the modern time where a foreign or an Indian student can properly be acquainted with the best products of the Indian mind. For that we have to cross the sea, and knock at the doors of France and Germany. Educational institutions in our country are India’s alms-bowl of knowledge; they lower our intellectual self-respect: they encourage us to make a foolish display of decorations composed of borrowed feathers.

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

   As a child you must have been told to greet your elders and visitors to your home according to your culture and tradition. You must also have been taught to be polite in company and keep quiet while others, especially your elders, speak. Possibly, you at times grudged such schooling. Possibly, at times you even protested such disciplining. Now, certainly you know that you can’t always behave the way you want specially in the presence of others. There are rules of behavior you have to follow in a company. We are social beings and have to consider the effect of our behaviour on others, even if we are at home and dealing with our family members.

   We have two terms to describe our social behavior-- 'etiquette' and 'manners.' 'Etiquette' is a French word and it means the rules of correct behaviour in society. The word 'manners' means the behaviour that is considered to be polite in a particular society or culture. Manners can be good or bad. For example, it is a bad manner to speak with food in one's mouth. No one likes a bad-mannered person. Remember that etiquette and manners vary from culture to culture and from society to society.
A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives.

(a) The word 'Company' in the passage refers to ——
   i. a group of industries
   ii. a group of people
   iii. social media
   iv. social and formal behaviour

(b) The closest meaning for 'grudge' is ——
   i. to do or give something unwillingly
   ii. to do or give something whole-heartedly
   iii. to do or give something willingly
   iv. to do or give something generously

(c) 'Schooling' means ——
   i. to follow somebody in a school
   ii. to establish a school
   iii. to read in a school
   iv. to train somebody to do something

(d) Bad manners cause ——
   i. nuisance
   ii. complacency
   iii. obedience
   iv. disobedience

(e) From culture to culture, etiquette and manners are found ——
   i. unequivocal
   ii. similar
   iii. dissimilar
   iv. annoying

B. Answer the following questions.

(a) Why should you observe etiquette and manners?
(b) What do you generally do when somebody comes to visit your family?
(c) How did you take the idea when your parents asked you to greet visitors to your home?
(d) Why should you be very conscious of your behaviour while dealing with others?
(e) What do 'etiquette' and 'manners' refer to?

2. Read the following text and make a flow-chart showing the factors causing the disappearance of the mangrove forest. (One is done for you)

A vast mangrove forest shared by Bangladesh and India that is home to possibly 500 Bengal tigers is being rapidly destroyed by erosion, rising sea levels and storm surges, according to a major study by researchers at the Zoological Society of London (ZSL) and others. Natalie Pettorelli, one of the report’s authors, said: “Coastline retreat is evident everywhere. A continuing rate of retreat would see these parts of the mangrove disappear within 50 years. On the Indian side of the Sundarbans, the island which extends most into the Bay of Bengal has receded by an average of 150 metres a year, with a maximum of just over 200 metres; this would see the disappearance of the island in about 20 years.”

The Sundarbans is known for vanishing islands but the scientists said the current rate of the mangrove forest’s retreat is not normal. “The causes for increasing coastline retreat, other than anthropogenic ones, include increased frequency of storm surges and other extreme natural events, rises in sea-level and increased salinity which increases the vulnerability of mangroves,” said Pettorelli.

3. Summarise the following text.

In Bangladesh folk music has great variety, with songs being composed on the culture, festivals, views of life, natural beauty, rivers and rural and riverine life. These songs are also about social inequality and poverty, about the material world and the supernatural. Mystical songs have been composed using the metaphors of rivers and boats. Since the country is basically riverine, the Bhatiyali forms an important genre of folk music. Folk music is formed and develops according to the environment. Differences in the natural environment are reflected in the people of the different regions. The dialects too vary across the different regions. Bangladeshi folk music therefore varies from region to region. Thus there are the northern Bhawaiya, the eastern Bhatiyali and the southwestern Baul songs.

3. Summarise the following text.

Accessibility to higher education implies that students get the opportunity to get university education and sufficient support from educational institutions. Increasing enrolment at the secondary and higher secondary level puts pressure on higher educational institutions. But due to limited capacity, only a small number of students may be enrolled in universities. Thus, each year a large number of students are denied access to higher education. Also, due to poverty and increase in educational expenses, students of the lower middle class do not get easy access to higher education. Moreover, those who get places in the universities have limited access to avail all kinds of diversified educational facilities relating to their study fields. Only about 12% of graduates enter higher educational institutions. More than 80% of these students are admitted to NU-affiliated colleges. Others are absorbed by the public and private universities. In the last two decades, there has been a substantial rise in the number of students in private universities. According to the UGC Annual Report 2010, the number rose from 88,699 in 2005 to 2,00,752 in 2010.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the famous diasporas and the causes of diasporas. (No. 1 is done for you)
2 \times 5 = 10
The term ‘diaspora’ is used to refer to the people who have left their homelands and settled in other parts of the world, either because they were forced to do so or because they wanted to leave on their own. The word is increasingly used for such people as a collective group and/or a community. The world has seen many diasporas but scholars have been studying the phenomenon with great interest only in recent decades.

Among the great diasporas of history is that of the Jewish people, who were forced to leave their lands in ancient times. The movement of Aryans from Central Europe to the Indian sub-continent thousands of years ago is also a noteworthy diaspora, although the causes of this diaspora are unclear. In the twentieth century history, the Palestinian diaspora has attracted a lot of attention and been a cause of concern for world leaders because of the plight of Palestinians. There have been massive diasporas in Africa, too, over the centuries, either because of war or because of the ravages of nature. But the chief reason why the phenomenon of diaspora is attracting so much attention now is globalization.

We have two terms to describe our social behaviour: ‘etiquette’ and ‘manners.’ ‘Etiquette’ is a French word and it means the rules of correct behaviour in society. The word ‘manners’ means the behaviour that is considered to be polite in a particular society or culture. Manners can be good or bad. For example, it is a bad manner to speak with food in one’s mouth. No one likes a bad- mannered person. Remember that etiquette and manners vary from culture to culture and from society to society.

We learn etiquette and manners from our parents, families and various institutions, such as schools, colleges or professional bodies. There are rules of behaviour for all kinds of social occasions and it is important to learn them and practise them in everyday life.

[Answer all the questions. Figures in the margin indicate full marks.]

Part –I : Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

   Adolescents constitute a nation’s core resource for national renewal and growth. Adolescence is a period in life when transition from childhood to adulthood takes place and behaviours and life styles are shaped. According to the World Health Organisation (WHO), adolescence is the period which shapes the future of girls’ and boys’ lives. There are 28 million adolescents in Bangladesh; 13.7 million of them are girls and 14.3 million boys.

   The situation of adolescent girls in Bangladesh is characterised by inequality and subordination within the family and society. This inequality leads to widespread practice of child marriage, marginalisation or exclusion from health, education and economic opportunities, and vulnerability to violence and sexual abuse.
In Bangladesh, the legal age of marriage is 18 for girls and 21 for boys. However, 33 percent of adolescent girls are married before the age of 15 and 60 percent become mothers by the age of 19. Research finds that adolescents with higher levels of education and from more affluent families tend to marry at a later age. Boys, however, become ready for marriage only after several years of adolescence. Adolescent girls are married before the age of 15 and young adulthood.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the iconic image of Nelson Mandela.

Nelson Mandela played a prominent role on the world stage as an advocate of human dignity in the face of challenges ranging from political repression to AIDS. He formally left public life in June 2004 before his 86th birthday. But he remained one of the world’s most revered public figures, combining celebrity sparkle with an unwavering message of freedom, respect and human rights.

The years Mandela spent behind bars made him the world’s most celebrated political prisoner and a leader of mythic stature for millions of black South Africans and other oppressed people far beyond his country’s borders.

Charged with capital offences in the 1963 Rivonia Trial, his statement from the dock was his political testimony.

“During my lifetime I have fought against white domination and I have fought against black domination. I have cherished the ideal of a democratic society in which all persons live together in harmony and with equal opportunities,” he told the court. Friends adored Mandela. And people lauded his humanity, kindness and dignity.

3. Write a summary of the following passage.

Conflict can be defined in many ways but one of the simplest is that it pertains to the opposing ideas and actions of different entities, resulting in an antagonistic state. Conflict is an inevitable part of life. All of us possess our own opinions, ideas and sets of beliefs. We have our own ways of looking at things and we act according to what we think is proper. Hence, we often find ourselves in conflict in different scenarios; it may involve other individuals, groups of people, or a struggle within our own selves. Consequently, conflict influences our actions and decisions in one way or another. Conflict comes naturally; the clashing of thoughts and ideas is a part of the human experience. It is true that it can be destructive if left uncontrolled. However, it shouldn’t be seen as something that can only cause negative things to transpire. It is a way to come up with more meaningful realizations that can certainly be helpful to the individuals involved.

11. Write down the theme of the following poem. (Not more than 50 words)

I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree,
And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made;
Nine bean rows will I have there, a hive for the honey bee
And live alone in the bee loud glade.
I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings;
There midnight's all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow,
And evening full of the linnet's wings.
I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements grey,
I hear it in the deep heart's core.

1. A. (i) c. ten years (ii) d. people leave their own countries and settle in other parts of the world (iii) b. noticeable (iv) c. Central Europe (v) a. massive diasporas

   B. (a) People leave their own countries to settle in another country with a better standard of living and better lifestyle or to ensure a better and healthier upbringing of their children. Besides voluntary diasporas, a group of people leave their countries either because of political or racial segregation or because of war or the ravages of nature.

   (b) Yes, I think that there have been massive diasporas in Africa over the centuries. Frequent wars and the ravages of nature are the prime causes for the diasporas in Africa.

   (c) The chief reason why diaspora is attracting so much attention is globalization. Globalization might have led people to move to other countries for exchange of knowledge, culture, international businesses, or for other foreign affairs. Hence, it might have accounted for some of the diasporas.

   (d) The twentieth century Palestinian diasporas draw the attention of the world leaders because of the plight of Palestinians. This diaspora has also been a cause of concern for the world leaders.

   (e) The scholars have been studying about he diasporas with great interest to obtain statistical data on migrants and expatriates, to find out the causes of forced and voluntary diasporas and understand in what circumstances people may be forced or plan to leave, or to understand what impacts diasporas may have in community in which the emigrants settle as expatriates.

1. A. (i) a. praise (ii) b. ignored (iii) c. ugliness (iv) c. watcher (v) b. when we are told to define beauty
   B. (a) We run into difficulties when we are asked to define beauty.
   (b) Yes, ugliness is a part of life. When we are repulsed by ugliness, we desire beauty. So, if there were no ugliness, beauty would be valueless.
   (c) In “Ode on a Grecian Urn” John Keats has written that beauty is truth, truth beauty. It means that truth even if it is not pleasant, becomes beautiful at a higher level. Similarly, what is beautiful forever remains true.
   (d) When there is absence of beauty, or when there is widespread hunger and injustice in a society, ugliness occupies a place as beauty in our lives.
   (e) Poets and artists define beauty as an art which is connected with truth. It is the reflection of both truth and justice.

3. Hakaluki is a complex ecosystem in Bangladesh which contains more than 238 interconnecting beels and jalmahals. It is an important source of fisheries resources for Bangladesh. It provides winter shelter for the mother fisheries. However, many of the beels have lost their capacity to provide shelter because of sand deposits from upstream rivers and canals, use of complete dewatering technique.

1. A. (a) iii. movement (b) iii. experience something harmful (c) iii. reporting (d) iii. shortage of blood
   (e) i. a newborn baby

   B. (a) Adolescent girls are the worst sufferers because inequality and subordination of adolescent girls in the family and society are the widespread practices of considering them weaker sex and burden for the family and the society. Besides, they are considered useless for economic activities. The adolescent girls are even uninformed or insufficiently informed about reproductive health and contraception. So, the adolescent girls are at high risk in terms of pregnancy and child birth.
   (b) When a girl loses mobility, she loses her friends and social status. And this also curtails her economic and non-formal educational opportunities. Besides, she lacks information about health issues.
   (c) I think, girls are more vulnerable to adolescent health problems as they are uninformed or insufficiently informed about reproductive health and contraception. So, the adolescent girls are at high risk in terms of pregnancy and child birth.
   (d) During adolescence boys face some significant problems. Among them lacking of power to make decisions, remaining unaware of social or health issues, being drawn into criminal activities and getting exposed to drugs and alcohol are major ones.
   (e) All of us should say ‘no’ to drugs because drug addiction causes irreparable damage to one’s health and life.

Part-I : Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

According to some myths and legends, Gazi Pir was a Muslim saint who is said to have spread Islam in the parts of Bengal close to the Sundarbans. He was credited with many miracles. For example, he could supposedly calm dangerous animals and make them docile. He is usually depicted in paats or scroll paintings riding a fierce-looking Bengal tiger, a snake in his hand, but in no apparent danger. According to some stories, he also fought crocodiles who threatened the people of a region full of canals and creeks, indeed, a kind of watery jungle bordering the Bay of Bengal. Because of his alert and vigilant presence, all predatory animals were said to have been kept within bounds. It was also believed that he enabled villagers to live close to forests and jungles and cultivate their lands. Consequently, people of these regions would pray to him for protection.

According to the legends, Bonbibi taught that everyone is equal, no matter the caste or religion that one has, and that they should live in harmony with nature.

Rani Rasmani, who created the Dakshineswar Kali Temple in Kolkata in 1847, saw Gazi Pir in a dream. In this dream he instructed her to construct a shrine for him under a peepal tree which is located outside what is now the riverside gate of Belur Math, which was built in the early 20th century. Ramakrishna Paramahansa used to offer “sinni” at this memorial.

The story of Gazi Pir has been preserved in folk literature as well as art and has been performed in indigenous theatre. In fact, some Gazi'r paat scrolls are part of the collection of the British Museum.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives:

(a) What could be the closest meaning for ‘scroll’ in the last sentence?
   i. A roll of paper for writing on
   ii. Emaciate
   iii. A part of movie
   iv. Scramble

(b) ‘Alert and vigilant’ presence refers to ———
   i. attention and sincerity
   ii. promptness
   iii. action and strength
   iv. breakneck

(c) Which of the following statements is not true about Gazi Pir?
   i. He was endowed with many miracles
   ii. He protected people from danger
   iii. He was benevolent to the people
   iv. He depicted scroll paintings.

(d) ‘He was credited with many miracles.’ What does the statement imply?
   i. He had magic power
   ii. He was a spiritually gifted person
   iii. He could deceive people
   iv. He had nothing special in him

(e) The purpose of the author of this passage is ———
   i. to show the picture of British Museum
   ii. to describe the life of the people around the Sundarbans
   iii. to describe the life of Gazi Pir
   iv. to highlight the miraculous power of Gazi Pir

B. Answer the following questions:

(a) What was Gazi Pir famous for?
(b) Why did he fight with the crocodiles?
(c) “Gazi Pir’s heroic activities have made him a legend.” Do you agree or disagree with this statement? Give reasons.
(d) “People of these regions would pray to him for protection.” What do you understand by this statement?
(e) What can we know from folk literature about Gazi Pir?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing means of running a peace movement.

A peace movement is a social movement that seeks to achieve ideals such as the ending of a particular war (or all wars), minimize inter-human violence in a particular place or type of situation, including ban of guns, and is often linked to the goal of achieving world peace. Means to achieve these ends include advocacy of pacifism, non-violent resistance, diplomacy, boycotts, demonstrations, peace camps; supporting anti-war political candidates and banning guns, creating open government, direct democracy; supporting people who expose war-crimes or conspiracies to create wars, and making laws. Different organizations involved in peace movements may have some diverse goals, but one common goal is sustainability of peace.
Peace movement is basically an all-encompassing "anti-war movement". It is primarily characterized by a belief that human beings should not wage war on each other or engage in violent conflicts over language, race, natural resources, religion or ideology. It is believed that military power is not the equivalent of justice. The peace movement tends to oppose the proliferation of dangerous technologies and weapons of mass destruction, in particular, nuclear weapons and biological warfare. Moreover, many object to the export of weapons including hand-held machine guns and grenades by leading economic nations to lesser developed nations.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

The term ‘diaspora’ is used to refer to people who have left their homelands and settled in other parts of the world, either because they were forced to do so or because they wanted to leave on their own. The word is increasingly used for such people as a collective group and/or a community. The world has seen many diasporas but scholars have been studying the phenomenon with great interest only in recent decades.

Among the great diasporas of history is that of the Jewish people, who were forced to leave their lands in ancient times. The movement of Aryans from Central Europe to the Indian sub-continent thousands of years ago is also a noteworthy diaspora, although the causes of this diaspora are unclear. In twentieth century history, the Palestinian diaspora has attracted a lot of attention and been a cause of concern for world leaders because of the plight of Palestinians. There have been massive diasporas in Africa, too, over the centuries, either because of war or because of the ravages of nature. But the chief reason why the phenomenon of diaspora is attracting so much attention now is globalization.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the features of conflict. (No. 1 has been done for you)

Conflict can be described as a disagreement among groups or individuals characterized by antagonism and hostility. This is usually fueled by the opposition of one party to another in an attempt to reach an objective different from that of the other party. The elements involved in the conflict have varied sets of principles and values, thus allowing a conflict to arise.

Conflict can be defined in many ways but one of the simplest is that it pertains to the opposing ideas and actions of different entities, resulting in an antagonistic state. Conflict is an inevitable part of life. All of us possess our own opinions, ideas and sets of beliefs. We have our own ways of looking at things and we act according to what we think is proper. Hence, we often find ourselves in conflict in different scenarios: it may involve other individuals, groups of people, or a struggle within our own selves. Consequently, conflict influences our actions and decisions in one way or another.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

—I (T)he Negro is still not free — the life of the Negro is still sadly crippled by the manacles of segregation and the chains of discrimination. — (T)he Negro lives on a lonely island of poverty in the midst of a vast ocean of material prosperity. — (T)he Negro is still languishing in the corners of American society and finds himself an exile in his own land. So we have come here today to dramatize a shameful condition.

I say to you today, my friends, so even though we face the difficulties of today and tomorrow, I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply rooted in the American dream.

I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: "We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal."

I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia, the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave owners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood.

I have a dream that one day even the state of Mississippi, a state sweltering with the heat of injustice, sweltering with the heat of oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice.

I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character.

I have a dream today.

I have a dream that one day down in Alabama, with its vicious racists, with its governor having his lips dripping with the words of 'interposition' and 'nullification', that one day right down in Alabama little black boys and black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and white girls as sisters and brothers.

4. Read the following text and fill in the blanks with suitable word from the box. There are more words than needed. Make any grammatical change if necessary.

She walks in beauty, like the night
Of cloudless climes and starry skies;
And all that’s best of dark and bright
Meet in her aspect and her eyes:
Thus mellowed to that tender light
Which heaven to gaudy day denies.

One shade the more, one ray the less,
Had half impaired the nameless grace
Which waves in every raven tree,
Or softly lightens o’er her face;
Where thoughts serenely sweet express,
How pure, how dear their dwelling-place.

And on that cheek, and o’er that brow,
So soft, so calm, yet eloquent,
The smiles that win, the tints that glow,
But tell of days in goodness spent,
A mind at peace with all below,
A heart whose love is innocent!

Sent Up-I Examination-2019 : English Paper-I

Part I: Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B. 60

A peace movement is a social movement that seeks to achieve ideals such as the ending of a particular war (or all wars), minimize inter-human violence in a particular place or type of situation, including ban of guns, and is often linked to the goal of achieving world peace. Means to achieve these ends include advocacy of pacifism, non-violent resistance, diplomacy, boycotts, demonstrations, peace camps; supporting anti-war political candidates and banning guns, creating open government, direct democracy; supporting people who expose war-crimes or conspiracies to create wars, and making laws. Different organizations involved in peace movements may have some diverse goals, but one common goal is sustainability of peace. Peace movement is basically an all-encompassing "anti-war movement". It is primarily characterized by a belief that human beings should not wage war on each other or engage in violent conflicts over language, race, natural resources, religion or ideology. It is believed that military power is not the equivalent of justice. The peace movement tends to oppose the proliferation of dangerous technologies and weapons of mass destruction, in particular, nuclear weapons and biological warfare. Moreover, many object to the export of weapons including hand-held machine guns and grenades by leading economic nations to lesser developed nations.
A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives:
(a) Achieve stands for ————
   i. foil  ii. tranquilize iii. attain iv. thwart
(b) The word minimize refers to ————
   i. besiege ii. lessen iii. exploit iv. augment
(c) The word equivalent can be replaced by ————
   i. tantamount ii. discernible iii. obnoxious iv. distend
(d) Which cannot be the meaning of ideology?
   i. Creed ii. Dogma iii. Doctrine iv. Incredulity (e) Proliferation of dangerous technologies will result into ————
   i. peaceful world ii. global warming iii. war and destruction iv. social justice

B. Answer the following questions:
(a) What is the main goal of peace movement?
(b) How do people try to ensure world peace?
(c) What is the foundation of peace movement?
(d) Why is proliferation of weapons opposed?
(e) Who are responsible for the expansion of arm trade?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the system of education in western universities. (No. 1 has been done for you)

But when we go to borrow help from a foreign neighbourhood we overlook the fact... that among the Europeans the living spirit of the University is widely spread in their society, their parliament, their literature, and the numerous activities of their corporate life. In all these functions they are in perpetual touch with the great personality of the land which is creative and heroic in its constant acts of self-expression and self-sacrifice. They have their thoughts published in their books as well as through the medium of living men who think those thoughts, and who criticise, compare and disseminate them. Some at least of the drawbacks of their academic education are redeemed by the living energy of the intellectual personality pervading their social organism. It is like the stagnant reservoir of water which finds its purification in the showers of rain to which it keeps itself open. But, to our misfortune, we have in India all the furniture of the European University except the human teacher.

And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made;
Nine bean rows will I have there, a hive for the honey bee
And live alone in the bee loud glade.

And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings;
There midnight’s all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow,
And evening full of the linnet’s wings.

I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements grey,
I hear it in the deep heart’s core.

Part I : Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B. Unit-9; Lesson-1
The term 'diaspora' is used to refer to people who have left their homelands and settled in other parts of the world, either because they were forced to do so or because they wanted to leave on their own. The word is increasingly used for such people as a collective group and/or a community. The world has seen many diasporas but scholars have been studying the phenomenon with great interest only in recent decades.

Among the great diasporas of history is that of the Jewish people, who were forced to leave their lands in ancient times. The movement of Aryans from Central Europe to the Indian sub-continent thousands of years ago is also a noteworthy diaspora, although the causes of this diaspora are unclear. In twentieth century history, the Palestinian diaspora has attracted a lot of attention and been a cause of concern for world leaders because of the plight of Palestinians. There have been massive diasporas in Africa, too, over the centuries, either because of war or because of the ravages of nature. But the chief reason why the phenomenon of diaspora is attracting so much attention now is globalization.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives : 1 x 5 = 5
(a) The word 'decade' refers to ———.
   i. thirty years ii. fifty years iii. ten years iv. five years
(b) What does diaspora mean?

Part–I : Reading Test [60 Marks]
1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.
   Folk music consists of songs and music of a community that are uninfluenced by any sophisticated musical rules or any standard music styles. Bangladesh has a heritage of rich folk music which includes both religious and secular songs.
   Folk music may be described as that type of ancient music which springs from the heart of a community, based on their natural style of expression uninfluenced by the rules of classical music and modern popular songs. Any mode or form created by the combination of tune, voice and dance may be described as music. Thus, the combination of folk song, folk dance and folk tune may be called folk music. For example, Baul songs are a combination of tune, music and dance.
   Folk music has the following characteristics: (i) It is composed by rural folk on the basis of ancient rules transmitted orally; (ii) These ancient rules of music have not been influenced by classical or modern music; (iii) Folk songs may be sung in groups or individually; (iv) No regular practice is required for folk music; (v) It is composed and performed by illiterate or semi-literate people; (vi) It is a spontaneous expression in easy language, local dialect, and simple tune; (vii) Both words and tune are appealing; (viii) Despite its universal appeal it uses local dialect; (ix) It depends upon nature and the rural environment; (x) It is an explicit manifestation of the joys and sorrows of daily life; (xi) It uses simple and natural rhythms; (xii) It contains a strong emotive expression of human love and separation.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives:
   (a) The word sophisticated mentioned in the passage means ——.
      i. uncultured ii. rustic iii. indigenous iv. refined
   (b) Which word of the following refers to secular?

   (c) "Spring" in the second passage could be best replaced by ——.
      i. flows ii. turns iii. slips iv. slides
   (d) The best synonym of 'explicit' is ——.
      i. alike ii. ambiguous iii. obvious iv. equivocal
   (e) The word 'emotive' mentioned in the passage means ——.
      i. practical ii. sensitive iii. tricky iv. tactful
B. Answer the following questions:
(a) What, according to the text, is folk music?
(b) Mention the three things that combine to make folk music.
(c) What is the most important characteristic of folk music?
(e) Do you think that the Baul songs are an example of folk music? Why? Why not?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the characteristics of a peace movement. (No. 1 has been done for you)
A peace movement is a social movement that seeks to achieve ideals such as the ending of a particular war (or all wars), minimize inter-human violence in a particular place or type of situation, including ban of guns, and is often linked to the goal of achieving world peace. 3. Write a summary of the following text.
Conflict can be described as a disagreement among groups or individuals characterized by antagonism and hostility. This is usually fueled by the opposition of one party to another in an attempt to reach an objective different from that of the other party. The elements involved in the conflict have varied sets of principles and values, thus allowing a conflict to arise. Conflict can be defined in many ways but one of the simplest is that it pertains to the opposing ideas and actions of different entities, resulting in an antagonistic state. Conflict is an inevitable part of life. All of us possess our own opinions, ideas and sets of beliefs. We have our own ways of looking at things and we act according to what we think is proper. Hence, we often find ourselves in conflict in different scenarios; it may involve other individuals, groups of people, or a struggle within our own selves. Consequently, conflict influences our actions and decisions in one way or another. Conflict comes naturally: the clashing of thoughts and ideas is a part of the human experience. It is true that it can be destructive if left uncontrolled. However, it shouldn’t be seen as something that can only cause negative things to transpire. It is a way to come up with more meaningful realizations that can certainly be helpful to the individuals involved. Conflict can be seen as an opportunity for learning and understanding our differences. We can all live harmoniously despite conflicts as long as we know how to responsibly manage these struggles.

   Then thousands I saw at a glance,
   Tossing their heads in sprightly dance.

Holy Cross College, Dhaka
Test Examination-2019 : English Paper-I

Part-I : Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.
   Adolescents constitute a nation's core resource for national renewal and growth. Adolescence is a period in life when transition from childhood to adulthood takes place and behaviours and life styles are shaped. According to the World Health Organisation (WHO), adolescence is the period which shapes the future of girls' and boys' lives. There are 28 million adolescents in Bangladesh: 13.7 million of them are girls and 14.3 million boys. The situation of adolescent girls in Bangladesh is characterised by inequality and subordination within the family and society. This inequality leads to widespread practice of child marriage, marginalisation or exclusion from health, education and economic opportunities, and vulnerability to violence and sexual abuse.

   In Bangladesh, the legal age of marriage is 18 for girls and 21 for boys. However, 33 percent of adolescent girls are married before the age of 15 and 60 percent become mothers by the age of 19. Research finds that adolescents with higher level of education and from more affluent families tend to marry at a later age. Boys, however, become ready for marriage only after several years of adolescence and young adulthood. When a girl gets married, she usually drops out of school and begins full-time work in her in-laws' household. In the in-laws' house, she is marginalized. She becomes vulnerable to all forms of abuse, including dowry-related violence. In Bangladesh, it is still common for a bride's family to pay dowry, despite the practice being illegal. Dowry demands can also continue after the wedding. For an adolescent bride, even if her in-laws are supportive, there are greater health risks in terms of pregnancy and child birth. The majority of adolescent brides and their families are uninformed or insufficiently informed about reproductive health and contraception. The maternal mortality rate for adolescents is double the national rate. When adolescent girls are pulled out of school, either for marriage or work, they often lose their mobility, their friends and social status. The lack of mobility among adolescent girls also curtails their economic and non-formal educational opportunities. Moreover, they lack information about health issues. According to a study, only about three in five adolescents have even heard of HIV. It is also reported that more than 50 percent of adolescent girls are undernourished and suffer from anaemia. Adolescent fertility... is also high in Bangladesh. The contribution of the adolescent fertility rate to the total fertility rate increased from 20.3% in 1993 to 24.4% in 2007. Moreover, neonatal mortality is another concern for younger mothers.

While the situation for adolescent boys is somewhat better, many are vulnerable and lack the power to make decisions about their own lives. Many boys who are unable to go to school, or are unemployed, remain unaware of social or health issues. They are at considerable risk of being drawn into criminal activities. They are also more likely to get exposed to drugs and alcohol.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives:

   (a) Adolescence is a ——— period from childhood to adulthood.
      i. transition ii. transitional iii. transitory iv. transient
   (b) The word 'legal' could be best replaced by ———.
      i. appropriate ii. legitimate iii. contraband iv. banned
   (c) Dowry demands can also continue ———.
      i. after marriage ii. after death iii. upon death iv. both after marriage and after death
   (d) The situation of adolescent girls in Bangladesh is characterized by ———.
      i. equality and supremacy within the family and society
      ii. inequality and subordination within the family and society
      iii. freedom in speech and movement
      iv. equality and cooperation within the family and society
   (e) Which of the following statements is not correct?
      i. After marriage, a girl usually drops out of school.
      ii. In the in-laws house she is marginalized.
      iii. In the in-law's house, a girl usually enjoys freedom in decision making.
      iv. In the in-law's house, after marriage a girl begins full-time work.

B. Answer the following questions:

   (a) How does World Health Organization define adolescence.
   (b) When does a girl drop out of school?
   (c) What are the effects of female inequality?
   (d) What are the negative impacts of early marriage of a girl?
   (e) How do wealth and education influence a girl's marriage?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the multifarious features of Bangladeshi music. (No. 1 has been done for you)

   In Bangladesh folk music has great variety, with songs being composed on the culture, festivals, views of life, natural beauty, rivers and rural and riverine life. These songs are also about social inequality and poverty, about the material world and the supernatural. Mystical songs have been composed using the metaphors of rivers and boats. Since the country is basically riverine, the Bhatiyali forms an important genre of folk music. Folk music is formed and develops according to the environment. Differences in the natural environment are reflected in the people of the different regions. The dialects too vary across the different regions. Bangladeshi folk music therefore varies from region to region. Thus there are the northern Bhawaiya, the eastern Bhatiyali and the southwestern Baul songs.

   The culture and the lifestyle of the different tribes have also influenced folk music. Tribes like the Santal, Garo, Hajong, Chakma, Manipuri, Tripuri, Marma, etc. have interacted with ethnic Bengali culture and lifestyle over the years. The interaction has been clearly reflected in the richness of folk music.

They ask him to pick Rita up at school in the afternoon. Of course Kyle says yes, because he does not have any plans and he knows it is very important to help his parents when he can.

Around 3:00 in the afternoon, Kyle gets a call on his cell phone from his best friend, Peter. "Kyle! Forget about whatever plans you had for today!” his friend exclaims. "Jessica’s mother just offered to let us use her country house this weekend!”
The only thing their friend Jessica can ever talk about is her mother’s enormous, luxurious country house. It has lots of bedrooms, a huge swimming pool, and an well-equipped gym room. They can also listen to very loud music there because there are no neighbors to complain. Kyle and his friends always talk about going there.

"Come on, we will leave in fifteen minutes! Get ready!" Peter exclaims.

Kyle looks at his watch and thinks about how much fun he could have with his friends in the country. He knows the teachers at Rita’s school will call his grandmother if he does not pick her up. He hesitates for a moment, very tempted to go with his friends. But of course he knows he cannot let his parents and sister down and leave Rita alone. He tells his friends that he will accept the invitation, but he has made a promise that he really must keep. Realizing he does not have much time left, Kyle rushes to his sister’s school. He is five minutes late, and when he gets there, he sees that Rita is very scared and is about to cry. She is the last student at the school, and the teachers are waiting with her.

When she sees her big brother rushing to the door of the school, Rita smiles and laughs with relief. She runs to him and gives him a big hug. She says she is very happy to see him. Kyle realizes that he has done the right thing.

Part-I : Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

As a child you must have been told to greet your elders and visitors to your home according to your culture and tradition. You must also have been taught to be polite in company and keep quiet while others especially your elders, speak. Possibly, you at times grudged such schooling. Possibly, at times you even protested such discipline. Now, certainly you know that you can’t always behave the way you want specially in the presence of others. There are rules of behavior you have to follow in a company. We are social beings and have to consider the effect of our behaviour on others, even if we are at home and dealing with our family members.

We have two terms to describe our social behaviour- ‘etiquette’ and ‘manners.’ ‘Etiquette’ is a French word and it means the rules of correct behaviour in society. The word ‘manners’ means the behaviour that is considered to be polite in a particular society or culture. Manners can be good or bad. For example, it is a bad manner to speak with food in one’s mouth. No one likes a bad-mannered person. Remember that etiquette and manners vary from culture to culture and from society to society.

We learn etiquette and manners from our parents, families and various institutions, such as schools, colleges or professional bodies. There are rules of behaviour for all kinds of social occasions and it is important to learn them and practise them in everyday life. The manners that are correct in a wedding reception will not do in a debating club. Therefore, we have to be careful about etiquette and manners. We know how important it is to say ‘please’ and ‘thank you in everyday life. A few more polite expressions such as ‘pardon me,’ ‘excuse me,’ ‘may I,’ are bound to make your day smooth and pleasant.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives :

(a) What should we consider as social beings?
   1. not speaking while others speak
   2. not speaking with food in mouth
   3. effect of our behaviour on our family members
   4. greeting our elders

(b) The synonym of particular is ——.
   1. indistinct
   2. specific
   3. nebulous
   4. indefinite

(c) Everybody —— a bad-mannered person.
   1. hails
   2. conducts
   3. detests
   4. applauds

(d) What does the word professional in the passage refer to?
   1. vocational
   2. occupational
   3. rational
   4. habitual

(e) What does the word bound in the passage refer to?
   1. callous
   2. responsible
   3. sure
   4. infallible

1 x 5 = 5

B. Answer the following questions :

(a) Did you ever protest disciplining when you were a child? How do etiquette and manners help a student to shape his/her life?

(b) How do the manners of a wedding reception and a debating club differ? Explain briefly.

(c) What have we been taught as a child to do while others, especially our elders, speak?

(d) What have we been taught as a child to do when, we are in company?

(e) What types of expressions are very important, to make your day smooth and pleasant?

2 x 5 = 10

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the features of Kuakata. (No. 1 has been done for you)

Kuakata, locally known as Sagar Kannya (Daughter of the Sea) is a rare scenic spot located on the southernmost tip of Bangladesh. Kuakata in Latachapel union under Kalapara Police Station of Patuakhali district is about 30 km in length and 6 km in breadth. It is 70 km from Patuakhali district headquarters and 320 km from Dhaka. An excellent combination of the picturesque natural beauty, sandy beaches, blue sky and the shimmering expanse of water of the Bay of Bengal and the evergreen forest makes Kuakata a much sought after tourist destination.

The name Kuakata takes its origin from the story of a ‘Kua’- or well-dug on the sea shore by the early Rakhain settlers for collecting drinking water. The Rakhaines had landed on Kuakata coast after being expelled from Arakan by the Mughals. Following the first well, it became a tradition to dig wells in the neighborhood of Rakhaine homesteads for fresh water supply.
Kuakata is one of the unique spots which allow a visitor to watch both the sunrise and the sunset from the beach. That perhaps makes Kuakata one of the world’s most attractive beaches. The long and wide beach at Kuakata has a typical natural setting. This sandy beach slopes gently into the Bay and bathing there is as pleasant as is swimming or diving. Kuakata is truly a virgin beach and a sanctuary for migratory winter birds. Fishing boats plying in the Bay of Bengal with colourful sails, surfing waves and the lines of coconut trees add to the vibrant colours Kuakata. The indigenous culture of the Rakhaine community and hundred year old Buddhist temples indicate the age - old tradition and cultural heritage of this area. Kuakata is also a holy land for the Hindus and Buddhists. Each year thousands of devotees come here to attend the festivals Rash Purnima and Maghi Purnima. On these two days, pilgrims take holy bath and enjoy going to the traditional fairs.

Accessibility to higher education implies that students get the opportunity to get university education and sufficient support from educational institutions. Increasing enrolment at the secondary and higher secondary level puts pressure on higher educational institutions. But due to limited capacity, only a small number of students may be enrolled in universities. Thus, each year a large number of students are denied access to higher education. Also, due to poverty and increase in educational expenses, students of the lower middle class do not get easy access to higher education. Moreover, those who get places in the universities have limited access to avail all kinds of diversified educational facilities relating to their study fields.

Only about 12 percent of graduates enter higher educational institutions. More than 80 percent of these students are admitted to NU affiliated colleges. Others are absorbed by the public and private universities. According to the UGC Annual Report 2010, the number rose from 88,669 in 2005 to 2,00,752 in 2010.

....[T]he Negro is still not free .... the life of the Negro is still sadly crippled by the manacles of segregation and the chains of discrimination. ....[T]he Negro lives on a lonely island of poverty in the midst of a vast ocean of material prosperity. ....[T]he Negro is still languishing in the corners of American society and finds himself an exile in his own land. So we have come here today to dramatize a shameful condition .......
I say to you today, my friends, so even though we face the difficulties of today and tomorrow, I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply rooted in the American dream. I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed : "We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal." I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia, the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave owners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood. I have a dream that one day even the st
...state of Mississippi, a state sweltering with the heat of injustice, sweltering with the heat of oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice. I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character. I have a dream today. I have a dream that one day in Alabama little black boys and black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and white girls as sisters and brothers.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing what IDRI is going to develop to prevent leprosy. (No. 1 has been done for you) 2 × 5 = 10

At IDRI, we are also attacking leprosy in two different ways. First, by developing a fast, easy-to-use test that provides an early diagnosis of infection before clinical symptoms, such as nerve damage, begin to appear. This new approach is far superior to the traditional method of diagnosis, which has generally involved clinical and/or microscopic assessment. IDRI is also developing a companion test so that we can identify which people will likely progress to the disease and to determine the appropriate course of treatment. And, second, by developing a vaccine that can be used therapeutically in conjunction with antibiotics to shorten therapy. IDRI's diagnostic tools would be used to identify infected individuals and IDRI's vaccine would then be used on a targeted basis for treatment of the patient as well as to immunise family members and close contacts. This treatment and prevention strategy has been significantly bolstered by support from some pharmaceutical giants that donate the currently used antibiotics.

The term 'diaspora' is used to refer to people who have left their homelands and settled in other parts of the world, either because they were forced to do so or because they wanted to leave on their own. The word is increasingly used for such people as a collective group and/or a community. The world has seen many diasporas but scholars have been studying the phenomenon with great interest only in recent decades. Among the great diasporas of history is that of the Jewish people, who were forced to leave their lands in ancient times. The movement of Aryans from Central Europe to the Indian subcontinent thousands of years ago is also a noteworthy diaspora, although the causes of this diaspora are unclear. In twentieth century history, the Palestinian diaspora has attracted a lot of attention and been a cause of concern for world leaders because of the plight of Palestinians. There have been massive diasporas in Africa, too, over the centuries, either because of war or because of the ravages of nature. But the chief reason why the phenomenon of diaspora is attracting so much attention now is globalization.

Test Examination-2019 : English Paper-I

Part-I : Reading Test [60 Marks]
1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.
We, human beings, tend to forget how far we have come as a species in a relatively short period of time. It was only in the 1870s when we had the first house that was lighted with electricity. Cars just started to become available 100 years ago. Charles Lindbergh made the first trans-Atlantic flight in 1927. Televisions didn’t become widely available until after World War II. In other words, the advances, humankind has made in a relatively short period of time have been nothing short of extraordinary. Perhaps just as extraordinary is how we tend to simply adapt to these incredible changes, not realising how completely our world has been altered in a short span of time. With that in mind, it is worth looking back at some of the amazing scientific advances we have made in the last few decades.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives:
(a) Human beings have crossed a huge ——— in regards of claiming accomplishments.
   i. achievement
   ii. milestone
   iii. goal
   iv. aim

(b) What is the meaning of 'relatively'?
   i. In proportion of something else
   ii. Simply
   iii. Nicely
   iv. Positively

(c) 'Advances' means ———.
   i. achievements
   ii. progress
   iii. extraordinary
   iv. wonderful

(d) Wide availability of television is a ——— matter now.
   i. bygone
   ii. wonderful
   iii. simple
   iv. update

(e) Man’s adjusting power is ———.
   i. little
   ii. big
   iii. astounding
   iv. very large
B. Answer the following questions: 2 × 5 = 10
(a) What is extraordinary about human beings as species?
(b) We have come a long way in a relatively short period of time. Explain in your own words.
(c) What kind of adjustment ability man has shown?
(d) What do you know about the invention and availability of television?
(e) How are human beings far superior to other species in the world?

3. Write a summary of the following text. 10
Beauty is easy to appreciate but difficult to define. As we look around, we discover beauty in pleasurable objects and sights - in nature, in the laughter of children, in the kindness of strangers. But asked to define, we run into difficulties. Does beauty have an independent objective identity? Is it universal, or is it dependent on our sense perceptions? Does it lie in the eye of the beholder? - we ask ourselves. A further difficulty arises when beauty manifests itself not only by its presence, but by its absence as well as when we are repulsed by ugliness and desire beauty. But then ugliness has as much a place in our lives as beauty, or may be more - as when there is widespread hunger and injustice in a society. Philosophers have told us that beauty is an important part of life, but isn't ugliness a part of life too? And if art has beauty as an important ingredient, can it confine itself only to a projection of beauty? Can art ignore what is not beautiful?
Poets and artists have provided an answer by incorporating both into their work. In doing so, they have often tied beauty to truth and justice, so that what is not beautiful assumes a tolerable proportion as something that represents some truth about life.

(c) He could not find his coin anywhere.
(d) Then he pushed his right arm through the drain cover.
(e) Yesterday I gave my nephew a five-taka coin.
(f) It rolled along the pavement and disappeared into a drain.
(g) On his way to the sweet shop, he dropped the coin.
(h) Instead of that, he bought himself five hundred taka worth of trouble.
(i) A crowd of people gathered round him.
(j) He took off his jacket and rolled up his sleeves.

   As man's ingratitude;
   Thy tooth is not so keen,
   Because thou art not seen,
   Although thy breath be rude.
   Heigh-ho! sing heigh-ho! unto the green holly;
   Most friendship is feigning, most loving mere folly:
   Then heigh-ho, the holly!
   This life is most jolly.
   Freeze, freeze, thou bitter sky,
   That dost not bite so nigh
   As benefits forgot;
   Though thou the waters warp,
   Thy sting is not so sharp
   As friend remembered not.
   Heigh-ho! sing heigh-ho! unto the green holly.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the causes of traffic jam in Dhaka. (No. 1 has been done for you)

Dhaka’s infrastructure doesn’t match the scale of its population. Just 7 percent of the city is covered by roads, compared with around 25 percent of Paris and Vienna. Dhaka also suffers from the absence of a planned road network. There are 650 major intersections, but only 60 traffic lights, many of which don’t work. That means the police force isn’t enforcing driving or parking rules; they’re in the intersections, directing traffic. The cost of Dhaka’s traffic congestion is estimated at $3.8 billion a year, and that’s just the delays and air pollution, not the less-tangible losses in quality of life. Paradoxically, the poor infrastructure is one of the reasons why the city is growing so fast. Without roads or trains to whisk them to the suburbs, Dhaka residents have no choice but to crowd into the middle, set up slums between high-rises, and walk to work. Then there are the users of the roads. Besides pedestrians, the narrow lanes are shared by bicycles, rickshaws, scooters, motorcycles, CNGs, buses, and cars. All these modes take up a different amount of space and have different top speeds. Most people you talk to in Bangladesh blame the traffic jams on the rickshaws. There are too many of them, they say, and they drive so slowly that they trap the cars, buses, and CNGs behind them. The government is under pressure to designate some lanes as car-only, to build wider roads and overpasses, to talk the slow traffic out from in front of the fast.

1. Poor infrastructure
   2. CNGs, buses, and cars
   3. Rickshaws
   4. Cars
   5. Buses
   6. Pedestrians

3. Write a summary of the following text.
We human beings tend to forget how far we have come as a species in a relatively short period of time. It was only in the 1870s when we had the first house that was lit with electricity. Cars just started to become available 100 years ago. Charles Lindbergh made the first trans-Atlantic flight in 1927. Televisions did not become widely available until after World War II. In other words, the advances humankind has made in a relatively short period of time have been nothing short of extraordinary. Perhaps just as extraordinary is how we tend to simply adapt to these incredible changes, not realizing how completely our world has been altered in a short span of time. With that in mind, it is worth looking back at some of the amazing scientific advances we have made in the last few decades.

One of the sources of water in our country are the rivers. Rivers are everywhere in our life, literature, economy and culture. But are the rivers in good shape? Unfortunately, they are not. A few are already dead and several are going through the pangs of death. The river Buriganga is an example of a dying river. A report published in the Daily Sun describes what has happened to the river Buriganga and why. Its water is polluted and a perpetual stench fills the air around it. But that is not what it was like before.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives:
   (a) The word 'curse' mentioned in the passage means ——.
      i. vow ii. pledge iii. imprecation iv. blessing
   (b) The word 'pang' mentioned in the passage means ——.
      i. ovation ii. cheer iii. jubilation iv. agony
   (c) The word 'worry' mentioned in the passage means ——.
      i. annoy ii. irritate iii. upset iv. tease
   (d) The word 'death' mentioned in the passage means ——.
      i. lean ii. demise iii. thin iv. emaciated
   (e) The word 'perpetual' mentioned in the passage means ——.
      i. thriving ii. temporary iii. short lived iv. eternal

B. Answer the following questions:
   (a) Who wrote the poem, "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner"? What is the poem about?
   (b) Why is drinking water important in our life? Can you mention the other name of water?
   (c) "Rivers are everywhere in our life." Do you agree with the statement? Give reason for your answer.
   (d) What is the condition of our rivers? Write your answer in the context of the last part of the text.
   (e) Give an example of a dying river. What was the report published in the Daily Sun about the river?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing how schools for children should be. (No. 1 has been done for you)
   Children’s right to education also implies that the school they go to will have a pleasant and learning-friendly environment where everyone will have an enjoyable time. Teachers will be kind, caring and supportive and children will feel relaxed. No harsh words will be spoken to them and special care will be taken of children with learning disabilities. That, unfortunately, is not the general picture in our schools. The system of education in our part of the world does not allow children much freedom, and classrooms look more like cages where they are pent up for hours.

3. Write a summary of the following text.
   As a child you must have been told to greet your elders and visitors to your home according to your culture and tradition. You must also have been taught to be polite in company and keep quiet while others, especially your elders, speak. Possibly, you at times grudged such schooling. Possibly, at times you even protested such discipline. Now, certainly you know that you can’t always behave the way you want, specially in the presence of others. There are rules of behaviour you have to follow in a company. We are social beings and have to consider the effect of our behaviour on others, even if we are at home and dealing with our family members.
   We learn etiquette and manners from our parents, families and various institutions, such as schools, colleges or professional bodies. There are rules of behaviour for all kinds of social occasions and it is important to learn them and practise them in everyday life. The manners that are correct in a wedding reception will not do in a debating club. Therefore, we have to be careful about etiquette and manners. We know how important it is to say 'please' and 'thank you, in everyday life. A few more polite expressions such as 'pardon me,' 'excuse me,' 'may I,' are bound to make your day smooth and pleasant.

4. Read the following text and fill in the blanks with suitable word from the box. There are more words than needed. Make any grammatical change if necessary.
   Conflict can be (a) —— as clash of value and ideas among other things, and the most serious form of conflict is (b) —— clashes that results in lots of (c) —— and causalties. There can be conflict (d) —— us which is (e) —— intrapersonal conflict. Tire conflict between or (f) —— persons is called (g) —— conflict. Constraint of resources is also a (h) —— of conflict and it is known as (i) —— conflict. Conflict is a very common phenomenon, but sometimes it takes (j) —— forms.

5. Fill in the blanks with appropriate word in each gap.
   The proper (a) —— of study involves regular and proper understanding. In order to (b) —— the best benefit from study, we should read (c) —— and intelligently. 6. Rearrange the following sentences to make a coherent order.
   (a) He asked him where God was.
   (b) He praised him highly.
   (c) Once a lad went to a famous teacher.
   (d) The teacher thought highly of the boy’s understanding.
   (e) The lad replied that he would answer if he would tell where he is not.
   (f) The boy devoted himself in earning knowledge.
   (g) He begged to instruct him in arts and sciences.
   (h) He agreed to teach the lad.
   (i) He had expressed his desire to acquire knowledge.
   (j) The teacher wished to find out the ability of the boy.

   You haste away so soon;
   As yet the early-rising sun
   Has not attain’d his noon.
   Stay, stay
   Until the hasting day
   Has run
   But to the even song;
   And, having pray’d together, we
   Will go with you along.

Test Examination 2019: English Paper I

Part I: Reading Test [60 Marks]
1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.
   A craftwork is an applied form of art, a social and cultural product reflecting the inclusive nature of folk imagination. A craftwork, which usually doesn’t bear the signature of its maker, retains a personal touch. When we look at a thirty year old nakshikantha we wonder at its motifs and designs that point to the artistic ingenuity and the presence of the maker in it. The fact that we don’t know her name or any other details about her doesn’t take anything away from our appreciation of the artist. Indeed, the intimate nature of the kantha and the tactile feeling it generates animate the work and make it very inviting.
   A craftwork is shaped by the interaction of individual creativity and community aesthetics, utility functions and human values. It is distinguished by its maker’s desire to locate himself or herself in the wider and ever-changing cultural aspirations of the community, and subsequently of the market. But even when the market is an important factor, community aesthetics remains the factor determining the form and content of the craftwork. The exquisite terracotta dolls from Dinajpur dating back to early 1940s that form a part of the Bangladesh National Museum’s collection were mostly bought from village fairs by some patron. They were no doubt meant to be consumer items, but the dolls reflect community aesthetics in such a manner that the market has not been able to impose its own preferences on them.
A craftwork thus is a dynamic object-always evolving, and always abreast of changing tastes and preferences. It also represents a way of life and a cultural flavour. Therefore changes in lifestyle and material conditions are expected to have their impact on craftworks and their production. But certain forms, shapes, styles and aesthetic preferences change little over time, suggesting that a craftwork can function as a stable signifier of community values and desires over time. Mechanical and mass production take away this feeling of assurance and stability and the sense of continuity that the handmade craftwork evokes.

2. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives:

(a) Which of the following factors is not needed to form a craftwork?
   i. cultural instruction ii. individual expertise
   iii. community aesthetics iv. human values

(b) Is the making of decorative or practical objects by hand.
   i. Nakshi kantha ii. Art iii. Craftwork iv. Terracotta doll

(c) The word ‘interaction’ means ——.
   i. communication ii. proliferation iii. understanding iv. exertion

(d) Which of the following statements is false?
   i. A craftwork hardly keeps peace with time
   ii. A craftwork is distinguished by its maker’s wish
   iii. Mass production of craftwork retards the feeling of assurance and stability
   iv. A craftwork conveys a cultural flavour

(e) Which of the following statements is true?
   i. A craftwork is formed by the interaction of individual creativity and community aesthetics
   ii. Nakshi kantha is a form of art
   iii. The signature of the craftsman is imposed on the craftwork
   iv. Terracotta dolls are mechanically produced craftwork

B. Answer the following questions:

(a) What, according to the text, are the distinctive qualities of a craftwork?
(b) The text considers the mechanical production of craftwork a challenge to the preservation of its authenticity. Do you agree?
(c) How does a kantha become animated and inviting?
(d) How does a craftwork retain a personal touch of its maker?
(e) What factor determines the form and content of a craftwork?

2. Read the passage and complete the table below with the given information.

My name is Amerigo. I am 13 years old and I live on the street alone. My mother, who is separated from my father, doesn’t want me. She told me to go away… Now she is married to another man. My father lives very far away. I want to go to him, but he won’t take me either. I begged him to send me some money so that I could buy a bus ticket. I am still waiting. He hasn’t answered. The streets are now my home. Sometimes I find work. I used to collect trash and sell it to a vendor. I stopped doing that after I had a serious infection and a doctor told me to stay away from the trash dump. Once I worked for an ice cream shop owner and sold ice cream on the beach. I got no money in return. The owner of the shop gave me something to eat, and let me sleep in his hut at night. The work was difficult and painful. The ice cream box is quite heavy when it is full. I had to walk for hours, offering my ice cream to whoever wanted to buy. There were days when I could not even sell one ice cream. In a way, I am lucky because I am alive. My friends who work sorting rubbish in dumps often suffer from serious diseases. One of them was recently killed after he fell into a hole that opened up in the pile of trash. Many of us work for 10 to 12 hours, and get so little in return that we can’t even buy food.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

The term ‘diaspora’ is used to refer to people who have left their homelands and settled in other parts of the world, either because they were forced to do so or because they wanted to leave on their own. The word is increasingly used for such people as a collective group and/or a community. The world has seen many diasporas but scholars have been studying the phenomenon with great interest only in recent decades.

Among the great diasporas of history is that of the Jewish people, who were forced to leave their lands in ancient times. The movement of Aryans from Central Europe to the Indian sub-continent thousands of years ago is also a noteworthy diaspora, although the causes of this diaspora are unclear. In the twentieth century, the Palestinian diaspora has attracted a lot of attention and been a cause of concern for world leaders because of the plight of Palestinians. There have been massive diasporas in Africa, too, over the centuries, either because of war or because of the ravages of nature. But the chief reason why the phenomenon of diaspora is attracting so much attention now is globalization.

11. Write down the theme of the following Poem (Not more than 50 words).

I died for beauty, but was scarce
Adjusted in the tomb,
When one who died for truth was lain
In an adjoining room,
He questioned softly why I failed?
‘For beauty,’ I replied,
‘And I for truth— the two are one;
We brethren are,’ he said.
And so, as kinsmen met a-night,
We talked between the rooms,
Until the moss had reached our lips,
And covered up our names.
Unit-5; Lesson-1

Beauty is easy to appreciate but difficult to define. As we look around, we discover beauty in pleasurable objects and sights - in nature, in the laughter of children, in the kindness of strangers. But asked to define, we run into difficulties. Does beauty have an independent objective identity? Is it universal, or is it dependent on our sense perceptions? Does it lie in the eye of the beholder? —we ask ourselves. A further difficulty arises when beauty manifests itself not only by its presence, but by its absence as well, as when we are repulsed by ugliness and desire beauty. But then ugliness has as much a place in our lives as beauty as an important ingredient, can it confine itself only to a projection of beauty? Can art ignore what is not beautiful?

Poets and artists have provided an answer by incorporating both into their work. In doing so, they have often tied beauty to truth and justice, so that what is not beautiful assumes a tolerable place in our lives. Philosophers have told us that beauty is an important part of life, but isn’t ugliness a part of life too? And if art has beauty as an important ingredient, can it confine itself only to a projection of beauty? Can art ignore what is not beautiful?

We are repulsed by ugliness and desire beauty. But then ugliness has as much a place in our lives as beauty. When we appreciate beauty, we face difficulties —we ask ourselves. A further difficulty arises when beauty manifests itself not only by its presence, but by its absence as well, as when we are repulsed by ugliness and desire beauty. But then ugliness has as much a place in our lives as beauty. When we appreciate beauty, we face difficulties —we ask ourselves. A further difficulty arises when beauty manifests itself not only by its presence, but by its absence as well, as when we are repulsed by ugliness and desire beauty. But then ugliness has as much a place in our lives as beauty.

We will now consider the following questions:

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives:

(a) The word ‘appreciate’ means ——.
   i. praise ii. choose iii. select iv. like

(b) The word ‘repulsed’ stands for ——.
   i. disguised ii. ignored iii. attracted iv. regarded

(c) Beauty also prevails in ——.
   i. truth ii. pleasurable object iii. ugliness iv. beautification

(d) The best synonym of ‘beholder’ is ——.
   i. runner ii. sender iii. watcher iv. stopper

(e) We face difficulties ——.
   i. when we go through any poem ii. when we are told to define beauty iii. when we appreciate beauty iv. when we are told to define truth

B. Answer the following questions:

(a) When do we run through difficulties?

(b) Is ugliness a part of life? If so, how?

(c) What has John Keats written in "Ode on a Grecian Urn"?

(d) When does ‘ugliness’ occupy a place in our life?

(e) How do poets and artists provide answer about the questions on how to define beauty?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the situation of adolescent girls in Bangladesh. (No. 1 has been done for you)

In Bangladesh, the legal age of marriage for girls is 18. However, 33% of our girls get married before they are 15 and 60% of them become mothers by the time they reach 19.

When an adolescent girl gets married, she usually drops out of school and thus loses her mobility. She gets confined to full-time work in her in-law’s household. She loses social status and all the opportunities of economic independence. In her in-law’s house, she gets marginalized. She becomes vulnerable to all sorts of abuse, including dowry-related violence. In our country, it is still a common practice for the bride’s family to pay dowry. Dowry demands can continue even after marriage. An adolescent bride, even if her in-laws are supportive, faces enormous health risk during pregnancy and child birth. Majority of our people are uninformed or insufficiently informed about contraception and reproductive health. This leads to increased mortality rates among adolescent brides during childbirth.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

The term ‘diaspora’ is used to refer to people who have left their homelands and settled in other parts of the world, either because they were forced to do so or because they wanted to leave on their own. The word is increasingly used for such people as a collective group and/or a community. The world has seen many diasporas but scholars have been studying the phenomenon with great interest only in recent decades.

Among the great diasporas of history is that of the Jewish people, who were forced to leave their lands in ancient times. The movement of Aryans from Central Europe to the Indian sub-continent thousands of years ago is also a noteworthy diaspora, although the causes of this diaspora are unclear. In twentieth century history, the Palestinian diaspora has attracted a lot of attention and been a cause of concern for world leaders because of the plight of Palestinians. There have been massive diasporas in Africa, too, over the centuries, either because of war or because of the ravages of nature. But the chief reason why the phenomenon of diaspora is attracting so much attention now is globalization.

Many educators believe that one of the functions of education today should be to impart 21st century skills that are indispensable for participation, achievement and competitiveness in the global economy. Beyond the assessment of reading, mathematics and science, it is now necessary to train other essential skills that are in demand in the 21st century. All people, not just an elite few, need 21st century skills that will increase their ability, employability and readiness for citizenship. Such skills include:

- Thinking critically and making the best use of the barrage of information that comes their way everyday on the Web, in the media, in homes, workplaces and everywhere else. Critical thinking empowers people to assess the credibility, accuracy and value of information, analyze and evaluate information, make reasoned decisions and take purposeful action.
- Solving complex, multi-disciplinary problems that all workers in every kind of workplace encounter routinely. The challenges workers face don’t come in a multiple-choice format and typically don’t have a single right answer. Nor can they be neatly categorized as ‘math problems,’ for example, or passed off to someone at a higher pay grade. Businesses expect employees at all levels to identify problems, think through solutions and alternatives, and explore new options if their approaches don’t work. Often, this work involves groups of people with different knowledge and skills who, collectively, add value to their organizations.
- Creativity and entrepreneurial thinking skills are always associated with job creation. Many of the fastest-growing jobs and emerging industries rely on workers’ creative capacity—the ability to think unconventionally and produce astonishing work. Students should develop the ability to recognize and act on opportunities and the willingness to embrace risks, for example.
- Communicating and collaborating with teams of people across cultural, geographic and language boundaries is a necessity in diverse and multinational workplaces and communities. Mutually beneficial relationships are important in achieving goals everywhere, not just in business.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives: 1 x 5 = 5

(a) What is the nearest meaning of ‘indispensable’?
   i. requisite    ii. emblematic   iii. typical    iv. effective

(b) The word ‘unconventional’ means ——
   i. traditional    ii. typical   iii. niche    iv. distinguishing

(c) What is the correct meaning of the word ‘assessment’?
   i. calculation    ii. bill   iii. tax value    iv. evaluation

(d) ‘Beneficial’ could be replaced by ——
   i. efficient    ii. adjuvant   iii. feasible    iv. operative

(e) Find out the synonym of ‘typically’.
   i. usually    ii. unconventionally   iii. informally    iv. irregularly

B. Answer the following questions: 2 x 5 = 10

(a) Do you think only academic education is enough today? Why/Why not?
(b) Why do you think ‘critical thinking’ is an indispensable skill?
(c) What are the indispensable skills of 21st century?
(d) Are you learning any of the 21st century skills? Why or why not?
(e) “Many of the fastest growing jobs and emerging industries rely on workers’ creative capacity”—What do you understand by this statement?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the importance of Hakaluki Haor. (No. 1 has been done for you) 2 x 5 = 10

The Hakaluki haor system provides a wide range of economic and non-economic benefits to the local people as well as to the people of Bangladesh. The haor system also protects the lower floodplains from flash floods occurring in the months of April-May, maintains the supply of fish in other lower water bodies and provides habitat for migratory and local waterfowls. The unique haor system contributes to the beauty of the landscape both during the monsoon and the dry season. In monsoon, its unique scenic beauty makes it a huge natural bowl of water and in the dry season it becomes a vast green grassland with pockets of beels serving as resting places for migratory birds. This unique natural system can be a major attraction for tourists.

1. Providing non-economic benefits   →  2.   →  3.   →  4.   →  5.   →  6.

3. Write a summary of the following passage. 10

Beauty is easy to appreciate but difficult to define. As we look around, we discover beauty in pleasurable objects and sights—in nature, in the laughter of children, in the kindness of strangers. But asked to define, we run into difficulties. Does beauty have an independent objective identity? Is it universal, or is it dependent on our sense perceptions? Does it lie in the eye of the beholder?—as we ask ourselves. A further difficulty arises when beauty manifests itself not only by its presence, but by its absence as well as when we are repulsed by ugliness and desire beauty. But then ugliness has as much a place in our lives as beauty, or may be more—as when there is widespread hunger and injustice in a society. Philosophers have told us that beauty is an important part of life, but isn’t ugliness a part of life too? And if art has beauty as an important ingredient, can it confine itself only... to a projection of beauty? Can art ignore what is not beautiful? Poets and artists have provided an answer by incorporating both into their work. In doing so, they have often tied beauty to truth and justice, so that what is not beautiful assumes a tolerable proportion as something that represents some truth about life.

3. Good news, however, is that we now have the key scientific solutions and momentum as well as key collaborations to finally have the opportunity to eliminate leprosy. I couldn't have said this 10 years ago. At IDRI, we are also attacking leprosy in two different ways. First, by developing a fast, easy-to-use test that provides an early diagnosis of infection before clinical symptoms, such as nerve damage, begin to appear. This new approach is far superior to the traditional method of diagnosis, which has generally involved clinical and/or microscopic assessment. IDRI is also developing a companion test so that we can identify which people will likely progress to the disease and to determine the appropriate course of treatment. 2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the condition of adolescent girls in Bangladesh. (No. 1 has been done for you)

The situation of adolescent girls in Bangladesh is characterised by inequality and subordination within the family and society. When a girl gets married, she usually drops out of school and begins full-time work in her in-laws’ household. In the in-laws’ house, she is marginalized. She becomes vulnerable to all forms of abuse, including dowry-related violence. In Bangladesh, it is still common for a bird’s family to pay dowry, despite the practice being illegal. Dowry demands can also continue after the wedding. For an adolescent bride, even if her in-laws are supportive, there are greater health risks in terms of pregnancy and child birth. The majority of adolescent birds and their families are uninformed or insufficiently informed about reproductive health and contraception. The maternal mortality rate for adolescents is double the national rate.

One morning, about a fortnight after I had obtained my Liberty, Reldresal, Principal Secretary (as they style him) of private Affairs, came to my House, attended only by one Servant. He ordered his Coach to wait at a Distance and desired I would give him an Hour’s Audience; which I readily consented to, on Account of his Quality, and Personal Merits, as well as of the many good Offices he had done me during my Sollicitations at Court. I offered to lie down, that he might the more conveniently reach my Ear: but he chose rather to let me hold him in my Hand during our Conversation. He began with Compliments on my Liberty; said, he might pretend to some Merit in it; but, however, added that if it had not been for the present Situation of things at Court, perhaps I might not have obtained it so soon. For, said he, as flourishing a Condition as we appear to be in to Foreigners, we labour, under two mighty Evils; a violent faction at home, and the Danger of an invasion by a most potent Enemy from abroad. As to the first, you are to understand, that for above seventy Moons past, there have been two struggling Parties in this Empire, under the Names of Tramecksan, and Slamecksan, from the high and low Heels on their Shoes, by which they distinguish themselves.

   (d) ii. He was a spiritually gifted person (e) iv. to highlight the miraculous power of Gazi Pir

   B. Open-ended
   (a) Gazi Pir was famous for his miraculous power of calming ferocious animals and making them docile as well.
   (b) Gazi had to fight crocodiles as they were a great threat to the people of the watery jungle bordering the Bay of Bengal.
   (c) Yes, I agree with this statement. Because Gazi Pir helped people enabling them in living close to the forests and cultivating their lands. He also protected them from fierce animals. For this, people treated him as their savior, and thus he became a legend.
   (d) By this statement we understand that Gazi Pir helped people enabling them in living close to the forests. He also protected them from fierce animals. So, people of these regions would pray to him for protection.
   (e) From folk literature we can know that Gazi Pir is usually depicted in paats or scroll paintings riding a fierce-looking Bengal tiger, a snake in hand, but in no apparent danger. We can also know that he fought crocodiles and could calm ferocious animals and make them docile. He also made people enabling in living close to the forests.

It was on April 10, 1912. The Titanic was sailing for New York from Southampton. She was carrying 1316 passengers and a crew of 891. At that time she was the largest ship in the world built in a special way and was regarded unsinkable. Four days after setting out a great disaster happened when the Titanic was sailing across the icy waters of the North Atlantic. At one moment a huge iceberg was spotted very close to the ship and the great ship turned sharply to avoid a collision. Suddenly there was a slight trembling sound from below. The captain went down to see what had happened. Five of the ship’s sixteen water-tight compartments were totally damaged by the collision. So, the captain realized to his horror that the Titanic was sinking rapidly.

According to some myths and legends Gazi Pir was a Muslim Saint. He spread Islam in the southern part of Bengal. It was a region full of canals and creeks bordering the Bay of Bengal. He was blessed with many miracles there. The amazing works of Gazi Pir are depicted in paats or scroll paintings. He is seen there riding a Royal Bengal tiger fearlessly. He also fought crocodiles. Thus all predatory animals were said to have been kept within bound. It so happened because he remained alert and vigilant. The story of Gazi Pir is still preserved in folk literature.

2. Open-ended
   (a) People leave their own countries to settle in another country with a better standard of living and better lifestyle or to ensure a better and healthier upbringing of their children. Besides voluntary diasporas, a group of people leave their countries either because of political or racial segregation or because of war or the ravages of nature.
   (b) Yes, I think that there have been massive diasporas in Africa over the centuries. Frequent wars and the ravages of nature are the prime causes for the diasporas in Africa.
   (c) The chief reason why diaspora is attracting so much attention is globalization. Globalization might have led people to move to other countries for exchange of knowledge, culture, international businesses, or for other foreign affairs. Hence, it might have accounted for some of the diasporas.
   (d) The twentieth century Palestinian diasporas draw the attention of the world leaders because of the plight of Palestinians. This diaspora has also been a cause of concern for the world leaders.
   (e) The scholars have been studying about he diasporas with great interest to obtain statistical data on migrants and expatriates, to find out the causes of forced and voluntary diasporas and understand in what circumstances people may be forced or plan to leave, or to understand what impacts diasporas may have in community in which the emigrants settle as expatriates.

Conflict comes from the disagreement among individuals or groups of varied opinions. The opposition group fuels conflict to reach an objective but it is undesirable in the society. Of course, conflict becomes harmless if it is under control. As we have our own opinions, ideas and beliefs and we act according to our thoughts, we often find ourselves in conflict. So, it is seen that our actions and decisions are influenced by conflict.

   South Africa had a long history of racial discrimination between the white and the black people. Nelson Mandela appeared as a pioneer to make the black people free. From his early years, he was deeply shocked at the oppression of the white against the black. Mandela became a lawyer and joined ANC that resisted racism. He united all the black people and struggled against the white govt, to establish their legal right and to stop all discriminations. So, Mandela was charged with treason and sentenced to life imprisonment in 1964 through a mock trial. But nothing could deviate him from the path of freedom, and his strong determination and great sacrifice inspired the people of the globe. At last in 1990, the white govt, was compelled to release him due to international pressure. Then he was elected president but he also gave up presidency. No head of state at present world can be compared with him, and he has become a living legend.

In the general election of Pakistan in 1970, Awami League won on a massive majority under Mujib's leadership. His party swooped in all but two of East Pakistan's quota of seats in the National Assembly. The West Pakistan rulers, however, were completely against Mujib's demand for greater autonomy. The then Pak President Yahya Khan delayed the Awami League from forming the Provincial government. In a historic speech at the Racecourse Ground in Dhaka on March 7, 1971, Mujib called for the independence of Bangladesh. Yahya Khan declared martial law, banned Awami League and ordered arrest of Sheikh Mujib. On March 17, 1971, the first government of the People's Republic of Bangladesh was formed and Mujib was made the first President of the country in his absence. On the night of March 25, 1971, Pak Army launched Operation Searchlight and started large scale genocide of the innocent Bengalis and arrested Sheikh Mujib. Soon after that Muktibahini was formed and it started strong resistance against the Pak Army. After nine months of bloody war, Bangladesh became independent and Sheikh Mujib took the charge of reconstructing the war-torn country.

Robert Bruce was a famous king of Scotland. Enemies invaded his kingdom. The king fought bravely but lost the battle. He had to flee from his kingdom to save his life and so he took shelter in a remote cave. The king was always in a gloomy state for his unhappy condition. Once when he was lying in the cave, he saw a spider trying hard to reach the ceiling of the cave. The spider failed again and again to succeed but it did not give up hope. Bruce saw the spider climbing to the ceiling after some unsuccessful attempts which inspired Bruce to shake off the darkness of the despair. He gathered an army of strong men and attacked his enemies. The enemies were defeated and Robert Bruce regained his kingdom.

Socrates believed that an angry man was more of a beast than a human being. He had a wife who used to lose her temper on the slightest excuse. One day the woman became more furious than ever and began to insult the great scholar of Greece. She tried her utmost to irritate Socrates. Socrates went outside and sat on the doorstep of his residence looking out of the path street. The wife found that her husband was not paying the least heed to her words. She went up to him with a bucket full of water and poured much water on him. The passers-by in the street were much amused at the incident. Socrates joined them in their laughter and quietly remarked, “I was expecting this”. “I know that after thunder comes rain”.

Hearing the question, all began to look at one another in frustration. Finally the mice migrated to another barn finding no other way.
Part-I : Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

Kuakata, locally known as Sagar Kannya (Daughter of the Sea) is a rare scenic spot located on the southernmost tip of Bangladesh. Kuakata in Latachapli union under Kalapara Police Station of Patuakhali district is about 30 km in length and 6 km in breadth. It is 70 km from Patuakhali district headquarters and 320 km from Dhaka. An excellent combination of the picturesque natural beauty, sandy beaches, blue sky and the shimmering expanse of water of the Bay of Bengal and the evergreen forest makes Kuakata a much sought after tourist destination.

The name Kuakata takes its origin from the story of a 'Kua' - or well-dug on the sea shore by the early Rakhaine settlers for collecting drinking water. The Rakhaines had landed on Kuakata coast after being expelled from Arakan by the Mughals. Following the first well, it became a tradition to dig wells in the neighborhood of Rakhaine homesteads for fresh water supply.

Kuakata is one of the unique spots which allow a visitor to watch both the sunrise and the sunset from the beach. That perhaps makes Kuakata one of the world's most attractive beaches. The long and wide beach at Kuakata has a typical natural setting. This sandy beach slopes gently into the Bay and bathing there is as pleasant as is swimming or diving.

Kuakata is truly a virgin beach and a sanctuary for migratory winter birds. Fishing boats plying in the Bay of Bengal with colourful sails, surfing waves and the lines of coconut trees add to the vibrant colours Kuakata. The indigenous culture of the Rakhaine community and hundred year old Buddhist temples indicate the age-old tradition and cultural heritage of this area.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives :

(a) 'Scenic spot' refers to ———.
   i. a place having multiple scenes ii. a place having a calm atmosphere
   iii. a place of unparalleled natural beauty iv. a place having untidy spots

(b) The word 'shimmering' in the text could be best replaced by ———.
   i. shivering ii. shining iii. significant iv. trembling

(c) The Rakhaines originally came from ———.
   i. Patuakhali district ii. Latachapli union iii. Kuakata coast iv. Arakan district

(d) The best synonym of 'vibrant' is ———.
   i. gloomy ii. dazzling iii. shivering iv. dull

(e) 'Kuakata is truly a virgin beach and a sanctuary for migratory winter birds' ——— what does it imply?
   i. Kuakata is a beach in its original pure condition and a rare abode for guest birds.
   ii. Kuakata is a place of rare beauty and world's longest beach.
   iii. Kuakata is untouched by human habitation.
   iv. Kuakata is a natural habitat.

B. Answer the following questions :

(a) What does the expression 'a much sought after tourist destination' mean?

(b) Where does the name 'Kuakata' come from?

(c) What makes Kuakata an attractive tourist spot?

(d) Why would one visit Kuakata?

(e) 'Kuakata' upholds an ancient tradition'. How?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the situation of adolescent girls in Bangladesh. (No. 1 has been done for you)

When an adolescent girl gets married, she usually drops out of school and thus loses her mobility. She gets confined to full-time work in her in-law's household. She loses social status and all the opportunities of economic independence. In her in-law's house, she gets marginalized. She becomes vulnerable to all sorts of abuse, including dowry-related violence. In our country, it is still a common practice for the bride's family to pay dowry. Dowry demands can continue even after marriage. An adolescent bride, even if her in-laws are supportive, faces enormous health risk during pregnancy.
and childbirth. Majority of our people are uninformed or insufficiently informed about contraception and reproductive health. This leads to increased mortality rates among adolescent brides during childbirth.

[Unit-6, Lesson-2]

3. Write a summary of the following text.

My name is Amerigo. I am 13 years old and I live on the street, alone. My mother, who is separated from my father, doesn’t want me. She told me to go away ... Now she is married to another man. My father lives very far away. I want to go to him, but he won’t take me either. The streets are now my home. Sometimes I find work, I used to collect trash and sell it to a vendor. I stopped doing that after I had a serious infection and a doctor told me to stay away from the trash dump. Once I worked for an ice cream shop owner and sold ice cream on the beach. But I got no money in return. The owner of the shop gave me something to eat, and let me sleep in his hut at night. The work was difficult and painful. The ice cream box is quite heavy when it is full. I had to walk for hours, offering my ice cream to whoever wanted to buy. There were days when I could not even sell one ice cream.

In a way, I am lucky because I am alive. One of my friends was recently killed after he fell into a hole that opened up in the pile of trash. A boy I know lost one of his eyes after a piece of hot glass flew into his eye at the glass factory where he worked. The owner refused to pay for medical treatment.

For me, like all other street children, life is very hard. I am looking for work. I am always hungry, and I don’t know where I will sleep at night.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the causes of traffic congestion in Dhaka city and losses owing to traffic congestion. (No. 1 has been done for you)

Alleviating traffic congestion is one of the major development challenges of the time. Half the world's population already lives in cities, and the United Nations (UN) estimates that the proportion will rise to nearly 70 percent by 2050. Dhaka, the world's densest and fastest growing city, is a case study in how this problem got so bad and why it's so difficult to solve.

Dhaka's infrastructure doesn't match the scale of its population. Just 7 percent of the city is covered by roads, compared with around 25 percent of Paris and Vienna. Dhaka also suffers from the absence of a planned road network. There are 650 major intersections, but only 60 traffic lights, many of which don't work. That means the police force isn't enforcing driving or parking rules; they're in the intersections, directing traffic.

The cost of Dhaka's traffic congestion is estimated at $3.8 billion a year, and that's just the delays and air pollution, not the less-tangible losses in quality of life. Paradoxically, the poor infrastructure is one of the reasons why the city is growing so fast. Without roads or trains to whisk them to the suburbs, Dhaka residents have no choice but to crowd into the middle, set up slums between high-rises, and walk to work.

[Unit-7, Lesson-2]

3. Write a summary of the following text.

One of the sources of water in our country are the rivers. Rivers are everywhere in our life, literature, economy and culture. But are the rivers in good shape? Unfortunately, they are not. A few are already dead and several are going through the pangs of death. The river Buriganga is an example of a dying river. A report published in the Daily Sun describes what has happened to the river Buriganga and why its water is polluted and a perpetual stench fills the air around it. But that is not what it was like before. The report says that the river had a glorious past. Once it was a tributary of the mighty Ganges and flowed into the Bay of Bengal through the river Dhaleshwari. Gradually, it lost its link with the Ganges and got the name Buriganga. The Mughals marveled at the tide level of the Buriganga and founded their capital Jahangirnagar on its banks in 1610. The river supplied drinking water and supported trade and commerce. Jahangirnagar was renamed Dhaka which grew into a heavily populated city with a chronic shortage of space.

The city paid back the bounty of the river by sucking life out of it! According to newspaper report, the Buriganga is dying because of pollution. Huge quantities of toxic chemicals and wastes from mills and factories, hospitals and clinics and households and other establishments are dumped into the river every day. The city of Dhaka discharges about 4500 tons of solid waste every day and most of it is directly released into the Buriganga.

11. Write down the theme of the following poem (Not more than 50 words).
   I love to rise in a summer morn,
   When the birds sing on every tree;
   The distant huntsman winds his horn,
   And the skylark sings with me :
   O what sweet company!
   But to go to school in a summer morn,
   O it drives all joy away!
   Under a cruel eye outworn,
   The little ones spend the day
   In sighing and dismay.
   Ah then at times I drooping sit,
   And spend many an anxious hour;
   Nor in my book can I take delight,
   Nor sit in learning’s bower,
   Worn through with the dreary shower.

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing important aspects of craftwork. [No. 1 has been done for you]
2 \times 5 = 10
A craftwork is an applied form of art, a social and cultural product reflecting the inclusive nature of folk imagination. A craftwork, which usually doesn't bear the signature of its maker, retains a personal touch. When we look at a thirty year old nakshikantha we wonder at its motifs and designs that point to the artistic ingenuity and the presence of the maker in it. The fact that we don’t know her name or any other details about her doesn’t take anything away from our appreciation of the artist. Indeed, the intimate nature of the kantha and the tactile feeling it generates animate the work and make it very inviting.
A craftwork is shaped by the interaction of individual creativity and community aesthetics, utility functions and human values. It is distinguished by its maker’s desire to locate himself or herself in the wider and ever-changing cultural aspirations of the community, and subsequently of the market.

Accessibility to higher education implies that students get the opportunity to get university education and sufficient support from educational institutions. Increasing enrolment at the secondary and higher secondary level puts pressure on higher educational institutions. But due to limited capacity, only a small number of students may be enrolled in universities. Thus, each year a large number of students are denied access to higher education. Also, due to poverty and increase in educational expenses, students of the lower middle class do not get easy access to higher education. Moreover, those who get places in the universities have limited access to avail all kinds of diversified educational facilities relating to their study fields. Only about 12 percent of graduates enter higher educational institutions. More than 80 percent of these students are admitted to NU affiliated colleges. Others are absorbed by the public and private universities.

4. Read the following text and fill in the blanks with suitable word from the box. There are more words than needed. Make any grammatical change if necessary.

I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree,
And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made;
Nine bean-rows will I have there, a hive for the honey-bee,
And live alone in the bee-loud glade.
And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow,
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings;
There midnight’s all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow,
And evening full of the linnet’s wings.
I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements grey,
I hear it in the deep heart’s core.

Part I: Reading Test [60 Marks]
1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B. Universities should never be made into mechanical organizations for collecting and distributing knowledge. Through them the people should offer their intellectual hospitality, their wealth of mind to others, and earn their proud right in return to receive gifts from the rest of the world. But in the whole length and breadth of India there is not a single University established in the modern time where a foreign or an Indian student can properly be acquainted with the best products of the Indian mind. For that we have to cross the sea, and knock at the doors of France and Germany. Educational institutions in our country are India’s alms-bowl of knowledge; they lower our intellectual self-respect; they encourage us to make a foolish display of decorations composed of borrowed feathers. Man’s intellect has a natural pride in its own aristocracy, which is the pride of its culture. Culture only acknowledges the excellence whose criticism is in its inner perfection, not in any external success. When this pride succumbs to some compulsion of necessity or lure of material advantage, it brings humiliation to the intellectual man. Modern India, through her very education, has been made to suffer this humiliation. Once she herself provided her children with a culture which was the product of her own ages... of thought and creation. But it has been thrust aside, and we are made to tread the mill of passing examinations, not for learning anything, but for notifying that we are qualified for employments under organisations conducted in English. Our educated community is not a cultured community, but a community of qualified candidates. Meanwhile the proportion of possible employments to the number of claimants has gradually been growing narrower, and the consequent disaffection has been widespread. At last the very authorities who are responsible for this are blaming their victims. Such is the perversity of human nature. It bears its worst grudge against those it has injured.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives:

(a) What is responsible for the deviation of education?
   (i) Distributing knowledge (ii) Temptation of material advantage
   (iii) Dissatisfaction of education (iv) lack of job facilities

(b) What should be the aim of educational institutions?
   (i) Distributing knowledge (ii) Creating scholars
   (iii) Removing unemployment problem (iv) To evolve intellectuality

(c) In the text 'borrowed feathers' means ———.
   (i) Other's intellect (ii) Decorated wings (iii) Plume (iv) Token of respect

(d) What is absent in Indian Education?
   (i) Practical knowledge (ii) Qualified teachers
   (iii) Dignity of culture (iv) Employment facilities

(e) Which is the synonym word of “grudge”?
   (i) friendship (ii) hatred (iii) sorrow (iv) love

B. Answer the following questions:

(a) What, according to the author, are the India’s educational institutions doing now?
(b) What should be the real aim of educational institutions?
(c) What is the function of culture?
(d) Why do the Indians go abroad for higher education?
(e) How do you evaluate the present Indian educational system?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing the nature of conflict. (No. 1 has been done for you)

Conflict can be described as a disagreement among groups or individuals characterized by antagonism and hostility. This is usually fueled by the opposition of one party to another in an attempt to reach an objective different from that of the other party. The elements involved in the conflict have varied sets of principles and values, thus allowing a conflict to arise.

Consequently, conflict influences our actions and decisions in one way or another. Conflict comes naturally; the clashing of thoughts and ideas is a part of the human experience. It is true that it can be destructive if left uncontrolled. However, it shouldn’t be seen as something that can only cause negative things to transpire. It is a way to come up with more meaningful realizations that can certainly be helpful to the individuals involved.

Conflict can be seen as an opportunity for learning and understanding our differences. We can all live harmoniously despite conflicts as long as we know how to responsibly manage these struggles.

3. Write a summary of the following text.

As a child you must have been told to greet your elders and visitors to your home according to your culture and tradition. You must also have been taught to be polite in company and keep quiet while others especially your elders, spoke. Possibly, you at times grudged such schooling. Possibly, at times you even protested such disciplining. Now, certainly you know that you can’t always behave the way you want specially in the presence of others. There are rules of behavior you have to follow in a company. We are social beings and have to consider the effect of our behavior on others, even if we are at home and dealing with our family members.

Etiquette is a French word and it means the rules of correct behaviour in society. The word ‘manners’ means the behaviour that is considered to be polite in a particular society or culture. Manners can be good or bad. For example, it is a bad manner to speak with food in one’s mouth. No one likes a bad-mannered person. Remember that etiquette and manners vary from culture to culture and from society to society. We learn etiquette and manners from our parents, families and various institutions, such as schools, colleges or professional bodies. There are rules of behaviour for all kinds of social occasions and it is important to learn them and practise them in everyday life. The manners that are correct in a wedding reception will not do in a debating club. Therefore, we have to be careful about etiquette and manners. We know how important it is to say ‘please’ and ‘thank you, in everyday life. A few more polite expressions such as ‘pardon me,’ ‘excuse me’, ‘may I,’ are bound to make your day smooth and pleasant.

Part 1: Reading Test [60 Marks]

1. Read the passage and answer the questions A and B.

When you are in the driving seat of a car, you have the steering and the horn in your hands, the brake and accelerator under your feet, eyes open looking ahead, left and right. The same can be said about a motorcycle rider, with some modifications. These are all very visible. But, behind all, there is something that keeps working unseen. And that is the Central Processing Unit (CPU), your brain. CPUs are artificially intelligent machines that are programmed to do specific jobs under fixed conditions and judgements. But the human brain is intelligent by nature. It is the most sophisticated machine that is able to operate on ever-changing conditions and standards of judgement. As conditions in the traffic keep invariably changing, this virtue of sophistication of your brain must be at work when you are driving. The difference between traffic in the roads and highways and racing circuit must not be blur.

You must always be ready to encounter unexpected behavior from any vehicle or pedestrian. 'Keep your eyes open, looking ahead, left and right. The same can be said about a computer is your conscience. Of the day, you don't want to be regarded as a killer. Now you see, the last thing that differentiates you from a computer.

A. Choose the correct answer from the alternatives: 1 x 5 = 5

(a) What does the phrase ‘sophisticated machine’ refer to in the passage?
   i. CPU ii. Human brain iii. Vehicle iv. Traffic

(c) While driving, one must be ready to face____ .
   i. Expected situations ii. Traffic rules iii. Unexpected behavior iv. Reckless drivers

(d) Michael Schumacher is a____ .

(e) What could be the closest meaning for ‘invariably’?
   i. ever ii. frequently iii. both i & ii iv. none of them

B. Answer the following questions: 2 x 5 = 10

(a) ‘Leave no room for fantasy’—explain it in your words.

(b) What are the main challenges faced by a driver?

(c) What kind of skill does car driving require?

(d) How do CPUs and human brains differ?

(e) What is our best guide on the roads?

2. Read the following text and make a flow chart showing activities of Hercules. (No. 1 has been done for you) 2 x 5 = 10

Hercules, the son of Jupiter and Alcmene, involved a fight with a lion. At first, he tried to fight the lion with his club and arrows but this took him nowhere. Then he decided he would use his hands and thus managed to slay the animal on his own relying entirely on his immense strength. His next task was to slay a monster called Hydra that has nine heads of which the middle one was said to be immortal. Hercules struck off its heads with his club, but whenever knocked off a head, two new ones erupted in its place. Eventually with the help of his devoted servant Iolaus, Hercules succeeded in burning all the heads of the hydra except the immortal one, which he decided to bury under a huge rock. In other words, Hercules triumphed again and this is how he began to acquire the reputation of a hero.

3. Write a summary of the following text. 10

In Bangladesh folk music has a great variety, with songs being composed on the culture, festivals, views of life, natural beauty, rivers and rural and riverine life. These songs are also about social inequality and poverty, about the material world and the supernatural. Mystical songs have been composed using the metaphors of rivers and boats. Since the country is basically riverine, the Bhityall forms an important genre of folk music. Folk music is formed and develops according to the environment. Bangladeshi folk music therefore varies from region to region. Thus there are the northern Bhaiwaiya, the eastern Bhityall and the southwestern Baul songs.

Because thou art not seen,
Although thy breath be rude.
Heigh-ho! sing heigh-ho! unto the green holly;
Most friendship is feigning, most loving mere folly:
Then heigh-ho, the holly!
This life is most jolly.
Freeze, freeze, thou bitter sky,
That dost not bite so nigh
As benefits forgot;
